Owner of Mountain Says Association Is Trying To Make Him a "Financial Wet-Nurse."

Bristling statements from Gutzon Borglum and Sam H. Venable marked Wednesday's developments in the affairs of the Stone Mountain Memorial Association, declaring that he would "never return to Atlanta unless it is to help harmoniously," and Venable stating emphatically that he would never assist in the completion of the Lukeman monument.

Borglum's statement, given to the Associated Press, vigorously replied to his attackers, designating them "as these very people who with nothing better to do have taken a secret method to insult what they are incapable of injuring."

Mr. Venable, in his reply to the recent card of Mr. Willis, which he stated had been delayed on account of the serious illness of a member of his family, ridiculed the conditions which had been laid down by the association as the grounds on which the memorial site would be returned, describing them as an effort to make him "a sort of financial wet-nurse."

He asserts further that the proposal that he take over the financial affairs of the association would indicate the impression that he "was running a home for the friendless."

No Witnesses Appared

While the name of Rogers Winter, the secretary of the memorial association, appears on the indictment as the first witness before the grand jury, it was stated at the office of Solicitor-General C. Smith that no witnesses went before the jury, the indictment having been found on the testimony presented at the time the original indictment was returned in 1925.

Widespread interest was manifested immediately after the news of the finding of the indictments became public as to whether the action was taken at the request of the Memorial Association, but this was denied Tuesday night by G. F. Willis, president of the association, who declared he knew nothing about the action until after it had been taken. Mr. Willis stated, however, that such a step had been taken by the members of the Stone Mountain Memorial Association.

DeKalb county officials indicated Wednesday that prosecution of the sculptor would not be attempted at this time. This was the same attitude adopted at the time the finding of the original indictments and was construed to mean that they would be held indefinitely, thereby making it impossible for Borglum to return to Atlanta, unless he was prepared to face arrest and court trial. His telegram of Wednesday definitely states that he would not

LINDBERGH LANDS AT PORT OF SPAIN ON RETURN FLIGHT

Port of Spain, Trinidad, September 25.—(By Radio.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh outmaneuvered intermittent squalls out of jungles and tree-bound river deltas of coastal South America today to mark another trail for the air mail. This time retracing his aerial progress from Panamacha, Dutch Guiana, to Port of Spain. The colored set his plane down here at 1:10 p. m. today, concluding the first leg of the homeward journey in his 7,000-mile aerial tour of the West Indies, South America, Central America and Mexico.

Reversing his trip of Monday, Colonel Lindbergh pushed his mail and passenger-bearing plane over the 586-mile hop, marking aerial miles through equally fair and inclement weather. With him were his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Juan T. Trippie, beside the ship's crew. Mr. Trippie is president of Pan-American Airways, sponsors of the new mail and passenger route over the circle tour.

The Lindbergh party planned to stay here tonight before embarking late tomorrow upon the comparatively short flight of 415 miles to Maracaibo, Venezuela.

FUND IS DEMANDED FOR SEWER RELIEF

On Eve of Committee Meeting Today, Mayor Urges Council To Take Prompt Action.

On the eve of a joint meeting of the Atlanta bond commission and the sewer committee of city council at 3 o'clock this afternoon to consider relief measures for citizens living in the vicinity of the Peachtree creek disposal plant, Mayor I. N. Ragdale Wednesday addressed letters to all members of city council and the commission urging immediate appropriation of $75,000 for enlargement of the present disposal unit.

The meeting this afternoon will be held in the committee room at the Atlanta city hall, and a delegation of property owners living in the district in which the city is said to be maintaining a nuisance by emptying thousands of gallons of untreated sewage daily into the creek, will appear before the city representatives.

Mayor Warns Council.

City Attorney James L. Mayson has ruled that the city cannot maintain the nuisance and has warned members of city council that a nuisance is being perpetrated at the disposal plant.

Residents of the district have filed official notice with city council that unless steps are taken to relieve the "unbearable" condition by December 1 they will appeal to the courts to force the city to stop emptying untreated sewage into the creek.

In his communication the mayor pointed out that he has recommended that some step be taken to afford relief to those living in the affected district on two separate occasions in annual messages to council, and he urges that they give the matter "very serious consideration at the earliest possible date."

Ragdale's Letter.

Mr. Ragdale's letter to members of council and the bond commission follows:

"I am sending you copy of petition which was handed me some days ago by approximately one hundred citizens living in the vicinity of Peachtree creek disposal plant. It is a petition for relief from the nuisance which is being perpetrated at the disposal plant. I am also handing you copy of letter I received from him, which explains the situation.

"I am of the opinion that if existing conditions can be remedied, as Mr. Mayson says in his letter that he is advised can be done, the necessary amount of money, approximately $75,000, should be appropriated by the bond commission and general council so that this work may be started immediately.

"As stated by the city attorney, in the event we can arrange to move this plant it will take considerable time to do it and during this time the sewage should be taken care of. I trust you will give this matter very serious consideration at the earliest possible date."

FILLING STATION MANAGER HELD UP; SUSPECT JAILED

Well-dressed, unmasked, and apparently intoxicated, a young white man entered a filling station at Piedmont avenue and Tenth street Wednesday night and robbed Manager R. K. Porter of more than $20, according to reports to the police.

Call Officers R. E. Floyd, R. L. Moseley, Paul Higgins and Jack Wingate, while searching the vicinity of the robbery scene took into custody a young man who had been acting in a suspicious manner near a filling station at the corner of Peachtree and Sixth streets.

At police station the suspect gave his name as H. F. Fleming, of a local hotel. He was held on a blanket charge of suspicion after being identified by Porter and others, as the man who robbed the Piedmont avenue station. Officers believe he was planning robbery of the second station when arrested.

Picture Slayer in Love With Victim But Swept On to Horrible Deed by Insane Passion.

Associated Press Staff Writer.

White Plains, N. Y., September 25.—(P)—Earl Peacock was pictured by two alienists today as a man helpless before the buffetings of an emotional storm at the time he admittedly killed his wife, helpless to stay his own hand from squeezing out the life of the woman he loved, even as he slew her.

The doctors were C. Floyd Haviland, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane on Wards Island, and George H. Hutchins, superintendent at the state institution for the insane at Utica, N. Y.

They listened to a hypothetical question which took more than an hour in the reading, and on the basis of that and an earlier examination of the prisoner in jail they expressed the opinion that during the period of his attack on his wife he was unable either to control his actions or to realize their nature or their consequences.

They were called by the defense and their testimony was practically identical. They said that Peacock had psychopathic personality and that when the exciting factors of his quarrel with his wife on the first anniversary of their marriage were superimposed on that personality he became, for a brief period, "legally insane, though not insane as it is defined by physicians."

Defense Rests.

Shortly after the doctors testified the defense rested. Tomorrow the jury will call in rebuttal Dr. Menas Gregory, chief of the psychopathic ward at Bellevue hospital in New York, to base an opinion on the same hypothetical question.

In the few moments between the testimony of the alienists and adjournment for the day, Peacock himself was submitted to him by the staff attached to the colored division, but in each instance threatened strikes were averted by promises of better conditions.

"We did not sign the latest ultimatum for reasons best not divulged," a speaker for the colored staff group declared Wednesday night, "but we are thoroughly in sympathy with the movement, and are convinced that members of the white unit mean what they say."

Message to Johnston.

The text of the message sent the superintendent Wednesday follows:

"Mr. Steve R. Johnston, Superintendent of Grady Hospital. We, the undersigned internists of Grady hospital, do hereby notify you that the food served in the dining hall of this hospital is incompatible with a successful performance of our duties. The hygienic surroundings are poor, our work is trying and our diet is irregular and broken. Such conditions, together with poor food, is sure to wreck the health of some of our men, who we consider a needless sacrifice. We do not have it in our power to better anything except the food, and we demand that it be bettered immediately and permanently or our services as a whole with Grady hospital will terminate at once."

"Numerous promises have been made and just as many broken. We are now asking for action and not promises. We are awaiting a favorable reply from you and if not forthcoming within 24 hours after receipt of this message we will take action."

"Signed: R. C. Alverson, M.D.; Charles P. Brown, M.D.; Raymond C. Cook, M.D.; Frank C. Daniel, M.D.; E. P. Evans, M.D.; A. L. Foxman, M.D.; F. J. LaViere, M.D.; W. E. Mayher, M.D.; C. E. McArthur, M.D.; Harold J. Starr, M.D.; Roy J. Turner, M.D."

Reaffirms Love.

There was nothing new he added to his testimony of yesterday, but in conclusion he reaffirmed his love for his wife with insist emphasis, "Did you love her when you hit her on the head with your pistol?" "Yes," he replied.

"Did you love her when you struck her over the head with his pistol?" "Yes," he replied.

"When you put your hands about her throat and choked her?" "Yes," he replied.

"And you loved her later when you poured kerosene over her body and set it afire?" "Yes," he replied.

"Yes," said Peacock, "I loved her then, too, I always loved her."

Entire First-Year Graduate Staff Sign Message Sent to Superintendent Steve Johnston.

BY T. K. JONES.

Virtual paralysis of service in the emergency receiving room and all wards in the main unit of Grady hospital loomed as a probability Wednesday when the entire first-year graduate intern staff warned Superintendent Steve R. Johnston of a wholesale walkout "within 24 hours" if their demand for better food is not respected "immediately and permanently."

The ultimatum bearing the signatures of 11 young doctors and alleging that "the food served in the dining hall of this hospital is incompatible with a successful and efficient performance of our duties" was dispatched by special messenger to the superintendent at his home late in the afternoon. "Numerous promises have been made and just as many broken," the communication declared, "and we are now asking for action and not promises. We are awaiting a favorable reply from you and if not forthcoming within 24 hours after receipt of this letter our services end."

Reached by telephone late Wednesday night, Mr. Johnston said that he would confer with the petitioners this morning, "and continue to do everything possible for them under the circumstances." As soon as Lewis, assistant superintendent, said the officials would do everything possible to bring about an amicable adjustment. "We are doing our best with the appropriation given us for serving from 2,000 to 2,500 meals daily," he said, "and we can't have just what they want at the time."

Wednesday's petition was the third directed to Mr. Johnston by the interns since the beginning of the year. On July 13 and September 3 similar petitions assailing the quality and quantity of food served at the city institution were submitted to him by the staff attached to the colored division, but in each instance threatened strikes were averted by promises of better conditions.

"We did not sign the latest ultimatum for reasons best not divulged," a speaker for the colored staff group declared Wednesday night, "but we are thoroughly in sympathy with the movement, and are convinced that members of the white unit mean what they say."

Funeral Friday.

Four blood transfusions were made within the past two days in an effort to save the manager's life, but at no time did he rally sufficiently to develop much hope for his recovery. Death was directly due to pyramin, with infection of the face, and edema, the filling of the lungs with water, as contributory causes.

At the bedside when the end came were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Higgins, his brother and sister-in-law; Myrtle Higgins, his sister, and the Rev. J. P. Price, of the Washington Heights Methodist Episcopal church.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Church of the Transfiguration, with the casket in close personal friend of Higgins, officiating. The body will be taken Friday afternoon to Cincinnati, Higgins' birthplace, where final services will be held Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Cincinnati.

All American league games scheduled Friday have been called off, by order of President E. S. Barnard, and the funeral services that afternoon will be officiated in a body by the Yankees, led by big Babe Ruth, out of whose battles with Higgins grew a firm friendship and mutual admiration. The Yankees were scheduled to meet Washington in the capital on Friday.

Negro Cultists Battle Police; Two Are Dead

Chicago, September 25.—(United Press.)—A secret cult of negro Mohammedans, believing death the surest way to reach Allah, engaged in a savage battle with police today, killing one officer and wounding two others critically. One cultist was killed and three others wounded. As a result police were maintaining a close watch on the south side to avert any possible outbreak between the races.

Detective Sergeant William Gallagher was killed and Detectives Jess Hill and Stuart McCutcheon were dangerously wounded when they attempted to raid the headquarters of the Moorish National Science Temple of America, a ramshackle building in the negro quarter.

They were repulsed by the embattled negroes who cried "We might as well die here and now," apparently in their belief that death in battle is the quickest way to heaven.

The cultists, outgrowth of a movement sporadic for several years for American negroes to take up Mohammedanism and eventually go to Morocco in northern Africa, have a large membership in Chicago, police said.

GUILTY VERDICT FOUND BY JURY IN PANTAGES TRIAL

Los Angeles, September 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Lois Pantages, wife of the theatrical magnate was convicted of manslaughter tonight by a jury which heard her trial on a charge of second degree murder.

The jury of five women and seven men made no recommendation for leniency. The sentence for manslaughter is fixed by California law at from one to ten years in the penitentiary. Three women jurors were the verdict was read.

Mrs. Pantages had been charged with the death of Juro Rokumoto, a Japanese gardener, as the result of an automobile accident. The woman was alleged to have been driving while intoxicated.

Although Mrs. Pantages was charged with second degree murder, the jury returned the manslaughter verdict.

Mrs. Pantages collapsed as the verdict was read. The woman was hysterical and apparently completely unaroused.

New York, September 25.—(P)—Miller Huggins, the "Mighty Atom" of baseball, is dead.

The bantamweight manager who knew how to handle the heavyweight home run king, who manipulated the play of the most powerful team ever known to baseball, winning six pennants and three world's championships in eight years with the New York Yankees, died this afternoon at St. Vincent's hospital.

The end of one of the most remarkable careers of major league leadership came at 3:16 p. m. after the diminutive manager had fought a gallant but losing fight against a complication of maladies. He was 49 years old.

Huggins was taken seriously ill less than a week ago. He was removed to the hospital only last Friday and then mainly at the insistence of Dr. Edward H. King, club physician of the Yankees, who realized the little man was in a dangerous condition. He had suffered from a protracted cold which developed into pneumonia, a slight infection of the face developed into erysipelas and it was the combination of ailments that rapidly undermined his resistance.

Georgian, in Animated Speech, Says President Has Chosen Industry Against Farms.

BY T. K. JONES.

Washington, September 25.—In one of the most vigorous speeches heard on the floor this session, Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, today assailed President Hoover for his action yesterday in injecting himself into the current tariff battle by urging adoption of the so-called flexible provision under which the chief executive, upon recommendation of the federal tariff commission, may lower or increase rates 50 per cent.

By giving the highly controversial flexible provision his presidential blessing, Mr. Hoover, the Georgia senator charged, had revealed his hand finally in the conflict raging within the senate, between industrial and agrarian leaders.

This conflict, in fact, has been accentuated by the president's endorsement of the provision. Shortly after word of the Hoover pronouncement reached the capital, late yesterday it was the subject of a biting attack by Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, and was renewed today in a similar philippic by Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., republican progressive, of Wisconsin. Senator George followed with a speech of nearly two hours' duration.

"This extraordinary session of congress," he declared, "was called primarily for the purpose of giving relief to agriculture, yet when the 12 leading farm organizations of the country complained recently that the tariff was too high, the president, later framed by republican members of the finance committee, not only did not give relief, but widened the present disparity between general industry and agriculture. Mr. Hoover was as silent as the tomb."

Cites Hoover's Silence.

"In the midst of the condemnation heaped upon the tariff by men and newspapers alike through the many months that it has been before the public Mr. Hoover has remained silent."

"He threw himself into the tariff breach yesterday," Senator George said, "and it is worthy of notice that he threw himself into that breach not when farm products were at stake, but when the chief demand of the protectionists was the tariff on sugar. He was believed to be in danger."

Senator George said the president's silence on other sections of the bill "indicates his complete acquiescence in every provision, or at least he does not regard any provision as of sufficient importance to justify his attack upon it."

President Dominates.

Continuing, the Georgia senator said: "The tariff commission can not function under the present amendment under any circumstances, unless its recommendations accord with the political views of the president."

"It would be impossible to suppose the election of any man as chief executive of the nation who did not have firmly fixed and even unyielding opinions in the question of the tariff. It is not only a question of life and death, but it is a question which likewise challenges the attention and disturbs the thought of statesmen in every land and under every form of government. How, therefore, can it be assumed that the history of any tariff commission men other than the so-called story recited."

WEATHER BUREAU PREDICTS FORCE WILL EXCEED 1928

Nassau Cut Off From All Communication as Storm Center Moves Across Islands.

IS APPROACHING COAST SLOWLY.

All Shipping Reported Safe — Refugees Pour Into Cities From Everglades.

Washington, September 25.—(P)—A prediction that the tropical storm, probably of hurricane intensity, headed toward Florida from the Bahamas, would not strike the east Florida coast before daylight tomorrow was made tonight by the weather bureau.

The bureau said that the storm apparently passed over Nassau in the Bahamas some time during the day, but that it had received no reports from there, indicating that wireless communication had failed.

"Something is wrong at Nassau," the bureau added, explaining it had asked for a weather report from there but had received none.

Havana, September 25.—(P)—The following storm warning was issued by Belen observatory: "The cyclone perturbation in the Bahamas is now approximately 120 miles east of Miami, Fla., moving in a westerly direction and with increasing intensity. It will probably strike Miami and north shortly before midnight tonight.

"The storm is advancing at about 8 to 10 miles per hour and gaining in force. It will probably strike the east coast of Florida with hurricane intensity and possibly more disastrously than storms of recent years. Weather conditions continue good."

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

With Nassau, capital city of the Bahama Islands, behind a veil of silence, few other Bahaman radio stations reported working, the lower east coast of Florida had little information at midnight as to the center of the tropical disturbance which the weather bureau predicted may strike after daylight Thursday.

However, the weather bureau said that no change was indicated in the situation tonight and that the center of the disturbance likely will reach Florida early Thursday near or slightly north of Miami. The report stated that it was certain winds of hurricane force would prevail.

At Havana, Cuban capital, Belen Observatory issued a warning that the storm center was advancing toward Florida, the rate of advance, ten miles an hour and is gaining in force. It was stated the storm might strike with greater fury than last year's storm.

Richard W. Gray, Miami meteorologist issued the following statement re-

CHANGE OPPOSED IN 122D INFANTRY

Conversion to Artillery Postponed—Delegation Calls Upon Governor.

The fight to maintain the 122d Infantry, "Atlanta's Own," in its present status will continue until there is a definite order converting it into coast artillery.

In an unequivocal statement Wednesday night B. S. Barker, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that every influence would be brought to bear upon the governor, the adjutant general, and the state senators to defeat any further move up to convert the regiment. The statement was made following an announcement by Adjutant General Homer Parker that the question of whether or not the regiment would be converted had been postponed indefinitely.

No Change at Present.
For the time being the regiment will remain in its present status, but it was indicated that ultimately it might be necessary to convert it. It is our information that Governor L. G. Hardman will be the final arbiter of the question. We cannot yet believe that he will change the regiment, Mr. Barker stated.

In furtherance of the plea of local officials that the regiment be maintained as it is, a delegation of about 20 persons, including officials of the city and county, called upon Governor Hardman Thursday morning. They presented their arguments verbally, stating that while a regiment of coast artillery would be practically useless in the present emergency, it would be invaluable for police purposes. It also was submitted that while the regiment was prepared for war as it is now, months would elapse before it had been trained in its new work if the change were made.

Will Withdraw Aid.
The committee also told the governor that if the regiment was converted that both Fulton county and Atlanta would discontinue financial support now given.

Details of the interview were divulged by E. H. Inman, county commissioner. Among others who were present at the conference were Walter B. Stewart, county commissioner, and Wiley L. Moore and R. M. Cobb, of the city commission.

Governor Hardman, it was said, assured them that he would give an answer soon.

Summary of Statement.
Summarized, the adjutant general's statement was:
1. No change will be made until another proposal is submitted by the war department, which probably will be done in the late fall or early winter.

2. The regiment was originally allotted with the distinct understanding that it was to be converted at some future time.

3. Federal limitations on the size of the national guard make it impossible to organize the regiment of artillery elsewhere in the state.

4. Final decision will be made by the military department, but not without the advice and consent of the governor.
5. The adjutant general does not favor changes in organization, within the Georgia National Guard that would eliminate all the infantry units in north Georgia.

Text of Statement.
General Parker's statement follows: "On a recent visit to Washington I learned from an authoritative source that the war department has not abandoned its plans for the organization of a regiment of G. P. F.'s (155 MM guns) in the city of Atlanta to take the place of that portion of the 122d Infantry that is now stationed here. I also learned that those responsible for the conduct of the war department's affairs and for a program of adequate national defense have not changed their minds in the premises. As adjutant general of Georgia and the head of our state military department should be carried into effect upon a careful study of the proposed reorganizations plans have been made and the best possible solution of the problem worked out. The opposition from local sources to the proposed changes in organization has, up to this time, been based on a misunderstanding of the situation. The adjutant general rejected, in writing, the proposal of the war department. In fact, the proposal has already been rejected by the military department twice. This was the action of the adjutant general and not the governor. The matter has not been submitted to the governor for his approval or disapproval because the adjutant general is not yet ready to give the plans his unqualified endorsement. The final decision of the premises will be made by the military department (after due consideration and deliberation but not without the advice and consent of the governor)."

No Immediate Action.
"It is not believed that final action will be taken in the matter in the near future. In all probability another proposal will be made by the state by the war department in the late autumn or early winter. At the proper time the matter will be taken up again and I believe the proposal of the war department will be such that all interested parties will approve it. The 122d Infantry, as it stands today, is a separate unit. It is not a part of any brigade or division. It is a special allotment to Georgia. It has no place in the mobilization plans in the event of an emergency. It was allotted Georgia with the distinct understanding that it was at some time to be converted."

"The danger that confronts Georgia and the city of Atlanta is, in my opinion, that of losing the regiment entirely. If for any reason the strength of the national guard should be reduced these special allotment units in all the states (I am told there are five of them) would be in a very precarious situation. In that event the regiment might be lopped off. Within the last 60 days the disbanded five battalions of infantry (regular army troops) has been announced."

"The suggestion made by certain business men of Atlanta to the effect that the regiment of G. P. F.'s might be organized in some other city or cities of Georgia does not come from military men. Men who belong to the military establishment and who know something about it realize that congress fixes the strength of the national guard and that it cannot be exceeded. Congress also appropriates a definite amount of money for the maintenance of a specified number of officers and enlisted men of the various components of the army of the United States, which consists of the regular army, the national guard and the organized reserves. The strength of the national guard at this time is approximately 185,000 men. The total allotment to the state of Georgia is 3,719. It is planned to increase the strength of the national guard of the United States by 2,000 during the next year. There are 50 states and territories, each maintaining its own national guard. Georgia's pro rata portion of this increase would be 40 men. In the proposal that has been temporarily rejected by the state we were given an increase of more than three times our quota."

Favors No Change.
"This statement is given to the press at this time in order that the minds of the people interested may be set at ease and for the further reason that it is hoped that when the matter is again presented to the state, consideration that the community will be willing to hear and pass upon both sides of the controversy, if indeed there should be one, before going on record as protesting the plans made by those who give all their time and effort to a study of such matters and as declining to cooperate with those responsible for our national defense."

STRONG FACULTY NOW ASSEMBLED AT MORRIS BROWN
Enrollment of Morris Brown university has reached more than 400, of whom about 80 per cent are new students, according to announcement at the institution Wednesday. The faculty is said to be the strongest Morris Brown has ever known.

Following a week's enrollment of students, the university last Monday observed formal opening exercises in the university chapel. President W. A. Fountain, Jr., presiding. This exercise marked the beginning of nearly one-half century of operation of this school.

The leading addresses were made by President M. S. Davage, of Clark university, and President W. A. Fountain, Jr., of Morris Brown university. Among other speakers were Dr. W. Boyd Lawrence, Macon, secretary of the trustees board; Rev. A. R. Cooper, Atlanta; Professor R. R. Sparks, of the university, and Bishop W. Fountain, D. D., chancellor of the university.

While the weather continued wretched Wednesday, air mail deliveries showed some improvement over Tuesday, when planes were unable to move a peg, going or coming. During a brief lull in the gloom late Wednesday afternoon, when the rain had stopped, the air mail planes, three mail planes—from Chicago, New Orleans and Miami—scattered in on time. And then the ceiling returned to nothing and operations for the day ceased. Candler field looks pretty much like a quagmire and few fliers have ventured from the comparative warmth of the hangars for several days.

Two visiting planes similarly took advantage of the brief atmospheric lull Wednesday afternoon to drop in at the airport. The famous Lockheed Air Express of Captain Frank Hawks and the other a Boeing biplane, piloted by the naval aviator, Lieutenant Stokes, who flew here from Montgomery, having been on a tour of inspection of the state. The Hawk arrived after a tempestuous time in Alabama Tuesday afternoon. He left Birmingham for Atlanta last night, and his return, from Houston, Texas, but lost his bearings in a dense fog and heavy rainstorm. Turning back to the Birmingham airport, he was forced and was forced down by impending darkness in a field a few miles north of Selma. He will take off for Norfolk, Va., early this morning. Lieutenant Stokes also is expected to resume his journey northward today.

The six Vought Corsairs, navy fighting planes, which arrived here last Saturday, intending to return to Norfolk, Va., the following day, still are at the airport. The planes, with little likelihood of taking off today, when more rain is scheduled. The planes, which are in command of Lieutenant Hummer, Lieutenant Whitney, Lieutenant (junior grade) Cooper, Lieutenant (junior grade) Wilcox and Ensigns Smith, LaForge, Cheves and Liron are on a cross-country tour and will have completed 1,000 miles upon their return to the Virginia base. The planes are stopping at the Ansley hotel during their stay here.

Although nothing has been heard one way or the other, the evil weather afternoon and evening showed the storm center had remained nearly stationary since 2 p. m.

No Change in Course.
"There had been no barometer changes on the east coast from St. Augustine to Miami since shortly after midnight Wednesday, when the coast indicated the storm center was practically due east of Miami as indicated in advisory messages issued by the weather bureau in Washington at 10 p. m."

"The very slow movement or absence of movement of course, delay its arrival on the east coast of Florida."

"At midnight it appeared that it was improbable that high winds would be felt before daylight."

"There are no indications that the storm has changed its course."

Bimini Still Heard
The Tropical Radio company last heard Nassau station shortly after midnight Wednesday, when the weather bureau was advised that something was wrong at the island city. West End, far to the north of Nassau, and Bimini, closer to the Florida coast, were two stations in the Bahamas working with Miami tonight.

The storm center was believed to be passed between Great Abaco and New Providence Island. Nassau is located on the latter.

All ships in the area were believed to have ridden to sea unharmed, and there was no information from that usual quarter as to wind forces and barometric pressure.

Vigil of the populace of the lower east coast rested with the weather bureau warning at 10 p. m., stating that the storm probably would not strike before daylight.

Refugees Seek Cities.
Fervent activity all through yesterday and last minute preparation found the section between Jupiter and Miami fully equipped with all possible precautionary measures adopted. Exodus of residents from the low lying sections of the Everglades and around Lake Okechobee continued as many fled to the cities for safety.

Barometer readings along the probable territory of the storm gave little indication of what might be expected, but generally rose late last night from early evening lows. Between the hours of 9 and 10 p. m., Miami barometric pressure rose from 29.80 to 29.81. Fort Lauderdale, which has shown the weakest east coast position noted a rise from 29.76 to 29.78. The greatest rise was made at Okechobee City, on the northern shore of Lake Okechobee, where the barometer climbed back 6 points. West Palm Beach's reading at 10 p. m. was 29.83 compared with 29.79 an hour earlier.

From Havana, Father Gutierrez Lanza, of Belen observatory, said that the Bahaman storm had developed into a true cyclone offering a possible danger to the Florida east coast as the big storm of last year. He said precautions should be taken in Palm Sebring, Fla., September 25.—(P)—Sebring, haven for refugees of the devastating south Florida hurricanes of 1926 and 1928, was crowded tonight with people from Everglades regions, seeking to escape possible danger from the tropical hurricane that threatened the lower east coast and interior.

Many families from Moore Haven, where the 1926 storm wreaked its wrath, arrived here today, and additional groups from Clewiston and the banks of Lake Okechobee, fearing damage tonight from the storm, have passed through here today for northern and western points in the state. People who had evacuated Okechobee reported that all precautions had been taken in that lakeside village to escape possible storm damage. Business houses and residences were boarded up, all lake boats had been put into harbor, and people all along the lake shores had been warned of possibility from storm damage. Reports indicated that the warnings had been calmly received.

CITY HALL EQUIPMENT BIDS ARE RECEIVED

City council Wednesday afternoon received 22 bids for various equipment needed to furnish Atlanta's new $1,000,000 city hall and after voting to send the bids to the special city hall committee and G. Lloyd Preacher, architect, for tabulation, declined to permit an ordinance which would have permitted use of Italian travertine as decorative stone on first floor fixtures instead of Georgia products.

Alderman W. Guy Dobbs, of the seventh ward, failed in an effort to propound several questions to bidders, and council referred the matter to the committee along with the bids at the request of Mr. Dobbs.

Included among the questions were: "Were you furnished specifications?" "Are you satisfied that you were treated fairly?" "Are you satisfied that each of the bidders or his representative be asked the questions before the assembled council, but his effort failed, council holding that the committee could go into the matter."

Some Bidders Disgruntled.

Although Mr. Dobbs did not state his purpose in offering the papers and insisting that council become a committee of the whole to hear from each of the bidders, it was understood that some of the bidders felt they had not been furnished all the data which should have come to them or that the specifications were drawn up in a manner that some of those who wished to be bid were barred from doing so. The Remington-Rand Business Service Company furnished no quotations, and suggested a revision of certain items.

Included among the bidders were the following:
W. M. Welch Manufacturing Company, Capital Electric Company, Queen Marble and Tile Company, Rayless Office Equipment Company, United Electric Company, American Enamel Products Company, Luke Seawell Company, Monroe-Benbrook and Company, Monroe Sales Company, Mutual Supply Company, Clanton & Webb Company, General Electric Company, Kewanee Manufacturing Company, Allen Air Appliance Company, Frigidaire Sales Corporation, Carithers-Wallace-Courtney, Ivan Allen-Marshall Company, Newell Thomas Horne Desk and Fixtures Company, Foote and Davies, Newton and Hoyt Company, W. E. Browne Decorating Company.

None of the bids was tabulated Wednesday, but work on them will be begun within the next day or two, it was announced.

Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, of the second ward and chairman of the special city hall committee, presented the proposal that Italian marble be used for the fixtures bases instead of Georgia marble.

Fire Calls

Fire calls for Wednesday as recorded at department headquarters follow:
4:50 P. M.—308 Thirteenth street, N. E.; apartment, "Meat burning on stove"; no damage; Companies 11, 15 and 19.
2:52 P. M.—107 Simpson street; residence, "caused by alleged carelessness with an oil stove"; small damage; Company 11.
5:35 P. M.—172 Whitehall; furniture store, caused by short circuiting; elevator wire; small damage; Company 2.

RELIEF IS PLANNED AS STORM IMPENDS

With the threat of another Florida storm imminent, Atlanta Wednesday was the scene of activity preparing to stand ready to furnish any aid that might be required.

H. B. Williamson, director of disaster relief work for the American Red Cross, passed through the city during the day. He planned to observe developments in Florida at first hand, in readiness to take immediate action should it be required.

All Red Cross chapters along the east coast of Florida have been notified from Washington to make complete preparations for a disaster. The Atlanta chapter will not be called upon at this time but may be if the threat of a disaster materializes.

Serious efforts to keep communications open were also made. The Western Union Telegraph Company, it was learned, has dispatched 100 men to Florida, to parole their lines and keep them unbroken. Materials enough to repair any possible damage also have been concentrated in Florida for the past ten days, since the first warning that conditions indicated the formation of a storm.

The Postal Telegraph Company was also undertaking emergency measures. A detail of 20 men left Atlanta Wednesday night, supplementing several large groups which already had gone.

A conference of officials of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph

Company in relation to the storm was held Wednesday. Men and materials were being rushed into Florida through the day.
All three companies expressed assurance that lines of communication would be kept open no matter what the strength of the blow.

$35,390 PAYMENT FOR NEW CITY HALL DELAYS IS VOTED

City council and the alderman board Wednesday approved payment of $35,390 to the National Construction Company for delays caused by the city in erection of the new $1,000,000 city hall. The paper, along with several other minor finance measures, will go to Mayor L. N. Hagsdale for his sanction.

Included among other finance papers were $800 for installation of several traffic signal lamps; $400 for damages incident to widening of Tift avenue payable to Frank Callaway; $100 for the department of garages, against the Massell Realty Company, because of damages in certain street work; $150 for purchase of an automobile for the department of garages, and $150 for the Sacred Harp convention.

REMOVE FILM... that's where decay, pyorrhea start

Film must be removed Employ the scientific method dentists urge

WHAT causes decay? Germs. Germs, with tartar, are also held to be a chief cause of pyorrhea. Germs on the teeth—and there are millions—are difficult to reach. A tiny, glue-like film holds them in contact with the tooth's enamel. This film coat gets into crevices and stays. It clings so stubbornly that only a special film-removing tooth paste can remove it satisfactorily. That tooth paste is the scientific formula called Pepsodent. Utterly different from every other, as you notice instantly when it touches your teeth.

No pumice, no harmful grit. No crude abrasive, but a creamy paste so gentle that it is recommended for children's teeth and for tender gums. Safeguard your teeth and give them the dazzling whiteness of a dentist alone can bring. Write for free 10-day tube to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

SOUTH IS DEFICIENT IN HOSPITALIZATION

Spider Bite Brings $10,000 Damage Suit

Little Rock, Ark., September 25.—(AP)—The Missouri Pacific Railroad Company was sued for $10,000 today because it is charged it permitted a spider to ride on one of its trains and thus to bite a passenger, Alvina Ruck. The woman alleges in a suit filed in circuit court here that she was bitten on the neck by the spider on June 25 last while on a train en route from St. Louis to Little Rock. She charges the railroad with negligence in allowing the spider on the train.

TENNESSEE WINS BATTLE TO KEEP LOWER GAS COST

Nashville, Tenn., September 25.—(AP)—Charles M. McCabe, commissioner of finance and taxation, tonight announced that he had secured agreements with officials of 17 distributing stations whereby the state will be able to purchase gasoline at two cents a gallon under net tank wagon prices. Commissioner McCabe said the agreements would not cause the state to abandon the survey by the state highway department to determine the feasibility of the state operating its own distributing stations. Attorney General L. D. Smith has been asked for an opinion as to whether an agreement McCabe charges has been reached by a number of dealers to discontinue the allowance of a two-cent deduction to the state is a "combination to fix prices and whether legal steps may be taken to prevent its being carried out."

Carl L. Willis, Standard Oil official, issued a statement denying the existence of the agreement McCabe charges was made.

Fifteen "independent" companies have agreed to sell the state gasoline at reduced prices outside of Shelby and Davidson counties, McCabe said, and another company will serve those counties.

"We are negotiating with other companies," he said.

Tuberculosis Head Urges Better Health Program for Dixie.

Nashville, Tenn., September 25.—(AP)—President Richard F. Hudson, of Birmingham, in his annual address tonight to the southern tuberculosis conference emphasized the need for a better health program, and the expansion of the scope of the conference to include all public health workers. "It is my purpose," he said, "to offer the conference the opportunity of discussing the wisdom of a policy that would construct our programs on the project method. That from year to year we should have our conference programs around some outstanding health problem."

Hudson said that the 13 southern states included in the conference have 27 per cent of the nation's population, but only 17 per cent of the beds in general hospitals and 19 per cent of the total beds in tuberculosis hospitals.

He charged that the southern states were lacking particularly in facilities for the care of negroes sick with tuberculosis.

"Eighty and seven-tenths per cent of the nation's negro population lives within the conference area," he said, "and 28.6 per cent of the population of the southern conference is negro. Statistics show that 30.1 per cent of all deaths from tuberculosis occurred within the conference area."

Dr. R. L. Carlton, city health officer, Winston-Salem, N. C., declared that "unofficial agencies developed to combat specific diseases to promote public health have been of great assistance by stirring public sentiment to demand new and better standards of health."

He said this had been done through the cooperation of the unofficial agencies with official agencies.

The tremendous loss for tuberculosis, which he said amounted annually to billions of dollars in the southern states, was greatly influenced by such factors as wages, condition of living, housing and general habits of the public. Professor O. C. Ault, of Peabody College, said in an address on economics as a factor in the control of tuberculosis.

Tomorrow's session will be devoted to a discussion of the "negro, his home, health and education," R. R. Moton, principal of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, will preside.

Addresses were delivered at this morning's session by Dr. H. E. Kleinschmidt, director of health education, National Tuberculosis Association, New York, and Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

"Scant progress has been made in health education in high schools," Dr. Kleinschmidt said. "We need more teachers specially trained in the basic principles of personal hygiene and public health."

ATHENS MERCHANTS TO STAGE DISPLAY ON WEEK OF GAME

Athens, Ga., September 25.—(Special)—Plans for a "manufacturers display week" here October 7-12, under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, were completed today.

Secretary C. D. Terrell, of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that a building on Broad street, opposite the Y. M. C. A., which recently was remodeled, has been tendered the Chamber of Commerce by J. Swanton Fry for the display booths which will be retained by local manufacturers.

The week of October 7-12 was selected on account of the Yale-Georgia football game which will attract many thousands of people to Athens for the week-end. All Athens manufacturers and merchants will be asked to obtain booths for displaying their products during the week. Athens merchants will be asked to cooperate by putting in special window displays during the week. The "manufacturers display week" is being held for the purpose of acquiring the people of the community with the many products that are made here, and also to give visitors to the city some idea of the potential manufacturing resources of this section of the state.

HOSPITALITY PLEASE SAVES FAIR VISITOR FROM TRAFFIC FINE

Miss Syble Carters, of Phoenix, Ariz., a visitor in the city, was brought into Recorder A. W. Callaway's court Tuesday charged with an infraction of the city's parking laws. Miss Carters told Judge Callaway she knew nothing about the parking laws, but that she had heard much of southern hospitality, and thought the judge might overlook her error. Judge Callaway agreed with her.

STONE MOUNTAIN MAN ACQUITTED ON THEFT CHARGE

Knoxville, Tenn., September 25.—(AP)—George W. Wilson, of Stone Mountain, Ga., held here on $1,000 bond charged with stealing $28 worth of tools was freed in city court here today. It was said in court that another suspect had confessed.

U. S. War Mothers Have Busy Session At Annual Meeting

Louisville, Ky., September 25.—(AP)—American War Mothers, in seventh annual convention here today observed Americanization day, conducted a patriotic ceremony, went for a boat ride in the afternoon and assembled at night to hear a series of addresses. Some 1,000 delegates were in attendance, with Mrs. Thomas Spencer, Milwaukee, national president, in charge. Outstanding among the reports was one on hospitalization by Mrs. Anna Shanahan, of Jersey City, N. J. Her report, embracing a period of two years, showed that the War Mothers spent $107,949.40, were represented at 1,065 funerals, furnished 170 firing squads for salutes, furnished flowers for 3,088 funerals, furnished food and clothing for 3,000 men and women, gave 7,200 men free hospital treatment, made 29,773 hospital visits and accomplished a number of other tasks.

LEVY NAMED RESERVE ARMY OFFICERS' HEAD

Macon Is Chosen as 1930 Convention City of Georgia Department.

Augusta, Ga., September 25.—(AP)—Lieutenant Colonel Abram Levy was unanimously re-elected president of the Georgia department, Reserve Officers' Association, and Macon was chosen for the 1930 convention city at the closing session of the state convention here today.

Other officers chosen were: Colonel Henry J. Meyer, of Savannah, vice president; Captain B. Emory Wilcox, of Augusta, treasurer; Lieutenant O. J. Tolmes, of Athens, judge advocate; Colonel George F. Rathbone, of Atlanta, historian; and Major F. L. Rosenthal, of Columbus, chaplain.

The new executive council was chosen as follows: Major C. R. Riner, Savannah; Colonel Wilder and Lieutenant D. G. Pettigrew, Albany; Captain John C. Carter, Columbus; Colonel Odie B. Mitchell, Atlanta; Colonel Eli J. Peacock, Macon; Captain William J. Florio, Athens, and Captain C. S. Leisz, Augusta.

Earlier in the day, reports of committees on by-laws and constitution and program and activity for the coming year were read and adopted. The program of activity adopted for the association was the same as that of the national organization.

Following considerable discussion, a section of the constitution and by-laws committee recommendation, which had been characterized as a "gag" rule, was stricken from the report by a convention vote.

The measure provided that no communication should be filed with any committee or member of congress or any officer of the war department, or be published, that is in effect, contrary to the policy of the association. Disciplinary action was recommended for any such violation. The convention decided that any such measure would result in a "gag" rule on the association and eliminated it. The delegates were entertained at a luncheon today and were guests tonight of the Augusta chapter at a supper and training school session.

RAGSDALE APPROVES FAIR'S PARADE PLANS

Mayor Promises Full Co-operation in "Greater Atlanta" Program.

Mayor Ragsdale Wednesday gave his whole-hearted approval to the plans for a "Greater Atlanta" parade on Tuesday, October 8, to celebrate the opening of the annual southeastern fair and the extension of the metropolitan area of Atlanta to embrace the communities of Buckhead, Avondale, Decatur, Hapeville, College Park, East Point, Bolton, etc.

Joe W. Ray, vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and general chairman of plans for "Greater Atlanta Day" at the fair, laid the matter before Mayor Ragsdale in a conference in the mayor's office Wednesday morning, and said he was much gratified over the co-operation he mayor gave the Junior Chamber, which organization was placed in general charge of the arrangements some days ago.

It was agreed by Mayor Ragsdale, that he would proclaim a half holiday on "Greater Atlanta Day," second, he gave an official permit for his monster downtown parade to be staged in the forenoon; third, he agreed to head the parade with members of the city council of Atlanta; fourth, he promised that the city of Atlanta would have a float in the parade; fifth, he authorized the Atlanta police department band to march and play in the parade, and approved a squadron of firemen for the parade.

Mayor Ragsdale also addressed a letter to the mayors of Avondale, Decatur, Hapeville, College Park and East Point, officially inviting them to take part in the celebration by riding in the parade in bannered automobiles, with their respective city councils, by sending a float to represent their respective municipalities, and to declare half holidays in conjunction with the half holiday Mayor Ragsdale will proclaim for Atlanta.

The legislature at its recent session passed an act creating "Greater Atlanta," to be composed of Atlanta and her sister municipalities, named above, all of which are interlocked in a general community of interests, commercial, financial, industrial, social; the community served by the same street railway and telephone systems.

The "Greater Atlanta Day" parade will be the first occasion when the community as a whole has come together in an official way to celebrate the creation of the expanded city.

General Chairman Ray stated Wednesday that he was pleased with progress in all departments of the "Greater Atlanta Day" plans. He has appointed a group of officers of the Junior Chamber to take charge of various features. The committees already functioning are as follows:

Floats by civic organizations, Henry W. Gullatt, chairman; commercial floats, John Armour, chairman; borough co-operation, R. J. Reynolds, Jr., chairman; women's clubs, R. L. Ellis, chairman; and D. W. Tharpe; publicity, Raymond Bell, chairman; military units, Duncan G. Peck, chairman; marshal of parade, George W. West, Horace Russell, Frank Hill, George B. Yancey, J. H. Woody.

Old Tennessee Train May Be Discontinued By State Commission

Nashville, Tenn., September 25.—(P)—The state railroad and public utilities commission will decide the fate of "Old Mike" within the next few days. Harvey Hannab, chairman, announced today following a hearing of the Southern railway's application to discontinue its train Numbers 7 and 8 between Somerville and Memphis.

"Old Mike" was the name given the train serving the territory between Memphis, Moscow, and Somerville years ago when Mike Brady, of Memphis, became its engineer. Dozens of citizens, protesting against the discontinuance of the train, were represented at today's hearing by R. N. Ware, of Fayette county, who said it was part of the Southern system and should not be abandoned.

Railroad officials introduced evidence purporting to show that the train is operated at a tremendous loss, and that since the advent of paved highways and bus lines, the train is no longer a public necessity.

SAVANNAH EDITOR NAMED TO STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Savannah, Ga., September 25.—(P)—Walter R. Neal, editor of the Savannah Morning News, today received his certificate of appointment as member of the state board of health, his term to begin on January 1, 1930, and to continue for six years. Governor Hardman has appointed Mr. Neal to take the vacancy which will exist then following the resignation of Dr. John D. Daniel, of Savannah, which was submitted yesterday to take effect on the first of the year. Mr. Neal will represent the first district on the board.

ADAMS EXPRESS PLANS $100,000,000 MERGER

New York, September 25.—(P)—A merger of three investment trusts, Adams Express Company, Railway Express Company and Haygart Corporation, was announced today.

The project would create an organization with assets estimated around $100,000,000. Adams Express directors proposed to stockholders a 10-for-1 stock split-up, and the exchange of its shares for those of Railway Express and Haygart. The terms of exchange have not yet been announced.

This constitutes a merger of three investment trusts, as Adams Express has been strictly an investing company since it went out of the express business, as has Railway Express, which was formerly the American Railway Express Co. Haygart Corporation is an investment trust formed by Hayden Stone & Co., and Hallgarten & Co.

NEGRO, BELIEVED ESCAPED, IS FOUND ON WARDEN'S PORCH

Savannah, Ga., September 25.—(P)—Caesar Eugene, negro under life sentence for murder, who has been employed on Chatham county's public works and who was reported to have made his escape yesterday, was found this morning on the back porch of the home of his superintendent, T. Newell West. The negro, who has been a trusty, said that he overstayed his time while on a trip to a store and fearing punishment went to Mr. West's home.

BINGHAM RAPPED FOR TAKING ADVICE OF MANUFACTURER

Washington, September 25.—(P)—Employment of an agent of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association by Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, to assist him in his work as one of the 11 republican framers of the pending tariff bill precipitated a political controversy today in the senate.

From the democratic side the contention was hurled that the bringing in of an adviser can be used by the tariff commission in a like capacity.

Both the republican leader, Watson, of Indiana, and the marshal of the democratic forces, Robinson, of Arkansas, were drawn into the discussion, launched by Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, who manifestly enjoyed stirring up the old guard across the political dividing aisle.

YAMACRAW RETURNS TO SAVANNAH PORT

Savannah, Ga., September 25.—(P)—After two months and three weeks absence from Savannah, the United States coast guard cutter Yamacraw returned to port today. Captain LeRoy Reinburg, commander.

The cutter was completely overhauled in drydock, about $30,000 having been spent in improvements. On her way down the coast the cutter speeded to the assistance of the steamer Carl Gerhard, which went on the rocks off Kill Devil Hill, N. C., but the crew had been saved before the Yamacraw reached her.

16 CAROLINA BANKS MERGE WITH MIDLAND

$50,000,000 Chain, Formed in North State, Joins Gotham Group.

Charlotte, N. C., September 25.—(P)—Acquisition by the Marine Midland Corporation, of New York, of control of 16 North Carolina banks with combined resources in excess of $50,000,000 was announced here today by W. C. Wilkinson, president of the Merchants and Farmers National bank, of Charlotte. The addition of the North Carolina banks to the holding of the New York concern makes a total of 32 banks in New York and North Carolina, control of which has or will pass into the hands of the Marine Midland.

The Marine Midland Corporation, a Delaware corporation, was formed recently to acquire control of banks. The company has 10,000,000 shares of no-par stock, 1,000,000 shares of which is being sold, according to Mr. Wilkinson, to provide operating capital for the Marine Trust Company, of New York, and a revolving fund for the banks. Four million shares will be traded for bank stock and 5,000,000 are to be kept in the treasury.

The North Carolina banks involved in the consolidation include: Merchants and Farmers National, Charlotte; Commercial National, High Point; Citizens National, Gastonia; First National, Salisbury; First National, Thomasville; Greensboro Bank & Trust Co., Greensboro; Fidelity bank, Durham; Commercial National, Raleigh; Wayne National, Goldsboro; First National, Hickory; First National, Morganton; First National, Marion; Bank of Lenoir, Lenoir; Bank of North Wilkesboro, North Wilkesboro; First National, Wadesboro, and First National, Shelby.

PEACOCK MURDER CASE DISCUSSED BY EVANGELIST

Moral blame for the murder of Dolly Peacock in New York was laid upon the indifference of Christians Wednesday night by the Rev. Norman Lovein, evangelist, who is preaching at 7:30 o'clock nightly in revival services at Wesley Memorial church.

The evangelist declared that Dolly Peacock and her young husband, now on trial for his life as her slayer, might have been saved from the tragedy by Christian men and women who lived around them.

Dr. Lovein urged upon his hearers their duty as Christians to extend a helping hand to boys and girls about them in Atlanta who have taken first steps along the road that Dolly Peacock and her husband traveled.

"These children are not wicked, they just don't understand what they are doing and they are responsive to kindly helpfulness," he asserted.

LOVERS INDICTED FOR POISON MURDER OF UNWANTED WIFE

Fulton, Ky., September 25.—(P)—Jim Gardner, 45, and Lela Bunch, 29, were indicted for "wilful murder" by the grand jury here today. The two are charged with having poisoned Mrs. Gardner.

It is improbable that the case will be tried at this term of court, which lasts only two days more. The next term is in January.

The two were arrested after poison was discovered in the viscera of Mrs. Gardner. She died under "mysterious circumstances" neighbors testified, and her body was exhumed and the viscera sent to Louisville for examination.

Gardner and Miss Bunch, who was a servant in the Gardner home for four years, were taken into custody for investigation. They were lovers, the state charged. Both denied any connection with Mrs. Gardner's death.

WALES WILL WED SOLELY FOR LOVE, NOT FOR POLITICS

London, September 26.—(Thursday)—(P)—The Prince of Wales, according to a biography published today, "regards the sanctity of marriage so seriously that he will not be thrust into a marriage of convenience," and he is not yet in love.

W. and L. Townsend, the authors, say, it is not easy to define his royal highness' outlook upon marriage. It is certain that he regards the sanctity of marriage so seriously that he will not be thrust into a marriage of convenience.

Continuing their analysis of the state of heart and mind of the 35-year-old heir to the British throne, the authors say, "retaining the best of so-called old-fashioned beliefs in his creed of modernity, the prince is a firm disciple of the belief that there is no use in marrying without love. Because he has not yet experienced that emotion in its true intensity, the prince does not get married. That is all there is to it."

Amused by repeated rumors of his supposed engagements, the prince is reported to keep an album in which he pastes clippings from newspapers on that subject.

2 MORE GOVERNMENTS COLLAPSE IN EUROPE

Vienna, September 25.—(P)—Resignations of the Austrian and Czechoslovak cabinets today brought to three the number of governments in central European states reformed after the World War, which have fallen within a week. Individual internal difficulties were responsible for the change rather than any single outside force.

In Austria, Dr. Ernst Steierwiz, who on April 30 succeeded with difficulty in forming a coalition cabinet, was forced out of office by withdrawals of support by the Syrian Farmers' League. His cabinet had been formed after Austria for twenty-seven days had been without a government, a period said to have exceeded only once before in European countries.

The Czechoslovak cabinet also left office today. It formed last February to succeed a government which had been in office about two years and a half. It was a coalition affair, and apparently party leaders decided to make an attempt to gain a clear majority by fresh elections. Parliament was dissolved on the day of the new election date fixed for October 27.

The turnover in governments in Lithuania was chiefly remarkable for the withdrawal from all participation by former Premier Waldemar, who also had been foreign minister. He had exercised strict control of the government since with the aid of the army he had sent parliament home three years ago. Today he handed over the premiership to Jonas Tubelis, who has retained most of the cabinet members.

ATLANTA FEDERAL PRISONERS REACH FORT LEAVENWORTH

Leavenworth, Kan., September 25.—(P)—A special train, bearing 125 prisoners from the federal prison in Atlanta to a new branch prison recently taken over by the department of justice at Fort Leavenworth, arrived here today.

The convicts were marched to the prison, the former United States army disciplinary barracks, by 24 guards who accompanied them from Atlanta.

Hearing Is Delayed.

New Orleans, La., September 25.—(P)—When a hearing on proposed new rates on sand and gravel came up today before the Louisiana Public Service commission, Chairman Francis Williams, at the request of the Louisiana highway commission, agreed to delay the hearing until October 7.

NEGRO HOME CRUELTY REMAINS UNPROVEN

Tennessee Official Says Inmates Will Be Examined.

Memphis, Tenn., September 25.—(P)—Evidence in possession of W. Tyler McLain, county attorney-general, does not sustain charges of Miss Georgia Tann, executive secretary of the Tennessee Children's Home Society, that negro inmates of the industrial settlement home here were tortured with fire, the attorney-general announced today.

He said, however, at least a dozen little waifs who were inmates of the negro-owned and negro-operated institution before it was destroyed by fire September 1 with loss of eight lives, would testify before the grand jury. The grand jury is investigating charges that the negro inmates were punished by being made to sit on hot stoves and stand in hot ashes, as well as having their bones twisted and broken.

"We want the jury to know all the facts," McLain said, "and it can ask the children any questions it sees fit."

Charges of inhuman cruelty were made against Bessie Simon, negro superintendent of the "home," by Miss Tann. Statements of 44 negro children who were inmates of the institution will be placed before the grand jury next week. The report of two physicians, who said they found a number of children suffering from fractured bones in the hands also will be placed before the fact-finding body.

RUSSIANS TO HOP TO U. S. MAINLAND IF FOG ENDS TODAY

Dutch Harbor, Alaska, September 25.—(P)—Undaunted by the terrific gale which almost ended their Moscow-to-New York flight, the four aviators of the Russian plane Land of the Soviets refueled their ship here today for a hop to Seward, Alaska, tomorrow.

A check of the plane showed that it was slightly damaged by waves which nearly smashed it against rocks as it arrived in the harbor yesterday from Attu, most western of the Aleutian islands. The crew was rescued and

LAVARRE CONTRADICTS GRAUSTEIN TESTIMONY

Tells Court Paper Head Mistaken in Some of Testimony.

Macon, Ga., September 25.—(AP)—William Lavarre testified in federal court here today that the head of the International Paper & Power Company, was mistaken in some of his testimony as to the financing of four southeastern newspapers.

The papers were bought by Lavarre and Harold Hall with approximately $870,000 furnished by the International Paper Company, a subsidiary of the International Paper & Power Company, of which Graustein also is president. Graustein was on the stand all of yesterday as a witness for Hall.

Lavarre completed his testimony today and his next witness was E. H. Batte, general manager of the four papers as employed by Lavarre.

Hall is suing Lavarre for equal operating control of the four papers on the ground that he was an equal partner in the enterprise. Lavarre answered that Hall was an employee. Lavarre said Graustein was mistaken when he testified that W. N. Hurlbut, vice president of the paper company, handled a $400,000 fund to be used in the purchase of the Southern (S. C.) Herald and Journal, two of the four papers in litigation. The others are the Columbia (S. C.) Record, and the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

Contradicts Graustein. Lavarre told Graustein in his presence told Hurlbut to the effect that the money was put at Lavarre's disposal. Graustein had said Hurlbut made the arrangements for the money, but not specifically told Hurlbut to make them.

The witness also read from the transcript of the federal trade commission hearing, in which Lavarre testified that he had first seen Joe Fearing, International Paper Company official, about the time he was in the Piedmont. The testimony, according to the transcript, then said Fearing had "taken us to Mr. Graustein, referring to Hall and Lavarre."

Hall produced correspondence relating to the membership of the Augusta Chronicle in the Associated Press. Although the file was withdrawn, Lavarre was questioned about it briefly. He said the Associated Press required that owners of newspapers agree among themselves as to who shall have in his name the Associated Press membership. He said that both he and Hall had signed an agreement, and that he also had agreed with Fitz Hugh McMaster, at Spartanburg, along similar lines. Attorneys for Hall said they would read the correspondence into the record "at the proper time."

Telegraph. Hall's attorneys also produced a telegram in Lavarre's handwriting signed "Warhorse," which, among other things, said "order everything killed," and Lavarre identified it. On re-direct examination he said that it referred to editorial matter and not to news dispatches.

Before he took the stand, the question of financing the four papers was brought up by Lavarre on the stand, and he said Hall had based the budget of the Chronicle on "imaginary figures." Batte then testified as to his estimate of the worth of the four papers and as to his experience and capability. He told the court the three South Carolina papers could be financed and make substantial profits within two years, but that outside capital, but that probably $25,000 would be needed to place the Chronicle on a similar basis.

Mercer Begins Work in Classes For New Session

Macon, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—With enrollment two-thirds completed, Mercer university opened its classrooms today for the beginning of the 94th annual session.

Rainy weather yesterday slowed up registration of freshmen and upperclassmen, according to J. C. Sholburne, registrar, but it is expected that final figures will practically agree with the total registration of approximately 475 for the first term of last year.

According to officials, Mercer begins the new school year with bright prospects. The erection of a new law building, to be completed in December; dormitory renovations and improvements; changes in the curriculum; to the faculty; the educational program of the Georgia Baptist convention; and the promising freshman football team and the fighting spirit which Coach Lake Russell has instilled in the varsity are given as important factors which will favorably determine the institution's future.

"The new year at Mercer is not remarkable for increase in student body," President Spright Dowell stated last night, "but for the attitude of faculty and student body as evidenced by the serious and systematic way in which registration and matriculation have gone forward. There is, too, a notably fine family spirit pervading the campus community."

SINCLAIR THANKS HIS SHAREHOLDERS FOR CONFIDENCE
Washington, September 25.—(AP)—The Washington Post today publishes quotations from a letter by Harry P. Sinclair to stockholders of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, thanking them for their support and confidence while he is serving his contempt of court sentence in the District of Columbia jail.

"This is a delayed but no less grateful letter of thanks to those who have given me so marked an expression of confidence in the management of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation," it says. "It will be my aim and that of my associates to justify this confidence by continued efforts for the success of your corporation."

"As to my own fortunes, I am confident that time will justify whatever I have done. My government drove a hard bargain with me over an oil lease on public lands and then accused me of attempting to defraud the government."

PROHIBITION SEIZE ATLANTAN, AUTO, 120 GALLONS RUM
Columbus, Ga., September 25.—(AP)—After a chase from Greenville, Ga., yesterday, W. T. Wright, of Atlanta, was arrested and his car and 120 gallons of liquor held in tin cans was seized by federal prohibition agents, according to word received here today.

Wright and his car were taken to the city. They were accompanied by Deputy United States Marshal J. J. Gordy. The liquor was destroyed at Greenville.

NEGRO DEATH CAR DRIVER IS HELD TO GRAND JURY
Columbus, Ga., September 25.—(AP)—Solomon Perry, 17-year-old negro, driver of a truck which struck and fatally injured Mrs. George W. ## SECOND TRIAL BEGUN IN PROHIBITION SLAYING

Adams Tried Again in Ambush and Murder of Federal Agent.

Appling, Ga., September 25.—(AP)—Evidence on which the state again seeks to convict Burley Adams of murder was presented late today after more than half the day had been spent in selecting a jury to hear his second trial for killing Walter R. Tolbert, federal prohibition agent, in 1927.

Returning from a liquor raid Tolbert was ambushed and slain and De Witt Fuller wounded near Harlem in Columbia county. Adams was arrested shortly after the killing, tried, convicted and sentenced to die, but the state supreme court granted him a new trial.

After questioning Fuller, first prosecution witness, J. B. Burnside, lawyer for Adams, announced the defense would contend that a bullet fired from the point at which Adams was standing at the time of the shooting could not have made holes which were opened in the curtains of Tolbert's car.

In his cross-examination Fuller said bullet holes were made in each of the four curtains of the automobile and that the holes in the rear curtain were higher than those in the front curtain.

WITNESS' AUTO SPLITS IN DITCH.
Harlem, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—Dr. J. L. Weeks, of Harlem, en route to Appling to testify in the Adams murder trial, slipped in a ditch and turned over, catching him beneath the car.

Dr. Weeks switched off his motor, thus saving himself and car from burning. He was not seriously injured.

GANGSTER GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER IN SHERIFF'S DEATH

New Orleans, September 25.—(AP)—A verdict of manslaughter was returned by a jury in criminal court early this morning against Fred Kelly, local gangster, charged jointly with William Woolfard, and Willie Dupont, also police characters, with the murder of James Saik, former deputy sheriff.

Woolfard and Dupont are free, the case against them being not pressed by Assistant District Attorney Bernard Cooke, just before the jury began its deliberation, for reasons of weak evidence.

Kelly, long a bother to the city's police department, will be sentenced by Judge A. D. Henriques within the next few days.

The indictment on which he and his two assistants were tried, charged responsibility for the shooting down on Duane street, in the French quarter of New Orleans, of Saik in the presence of the latter's 14-year-old son on the night of last August 15. Saik was killed by one of three men in an automobile after his son refused to give the trio information as to where a beer resort might be found.

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as colds, coughs, pneumonia, etc.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given such uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. Runion, known to your druggist as Runion's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives quick and most delightful relief. ## HORTON PREDICTS SPECIAL SESSION FOR TENNESSEE

Nashville, Tenn., September 25.—(AP)—A call for an extra session of the Tennessee legislature for early in November was deemed likely tonight following Governor Henry H. Horton's informal statement today that "it looks very much now as though an extra session will have to be called to take care of the state's finances."

This was the first definite statement of the governor regarding the prospects for an extra session. Talk of an extra session has been current for weeks.

"In the event it is called," the governor said, "my first consideration will be to look after the finances of the state. I am being asked by various county representatives to include certain special measures, and I suppose I will have to accommodate them in this regard, but the prime motive for the call, if issued, will be the state's revenues."

Governor Horton said that from reports submitted to him during the week a deficit of approximately $700,000 would be shown when the state school funds were distributed, but that the deficit would temporarily be taken care of by $650,000 sent in by the department of insurance.

Two ATLANTANS ARRESTED AT ROME IN THEFT ATTEMPT

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED
False modesty is a relic of an ancient prejudice. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has cut it away and, in behalf of better health and pure enjoyment, sponsors the fashion of sensible swimming attire.

"toasting did it"—
Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

WALK-OVER OPENS NEW STORE TODAY

Phillip J. Shuttleworth Will Be Manager of Atlanta House.

Featuring a line of shoes known all over the world, Walk-Over will open a new store in Atlanta this morning at 203 Peachtree street, under the management of Phillip J. Shuttleworth.

Mr. Shuttleworth has been associated with the shoe business in Atlanta for several years, and his selection to be manager of the Walk-Over store was made in consideration of his experience and his record in the business.

The location of the store is very favorable in the opinion of Mr. Shuttleworth.

PHILLIP J. SHUTTLEWORTH, Manager of the new Walk-Over Shoe Store in Atlanta.

Shuttleworth. He is optimistic over the business outlook for this immediate section and feels assured that the Walk-Over lines will meet a wide demand.

Mr. Shuttleworth will be assisted in the management of the store by L. R. Ashby, who has been with Walk-Over for 17 years. In addition to the personnel of the store will include E. C. McKinney, well-known salesman in this city, and Mrs. Mary McCullar, who will have charge of the hosiery department. Standard Walk-Over shoes for both men and women will be featured.

Walk-Over shoes have been manufactured for more than 55 years. In addition to the regular lines of style shoes, for both men and women, the company builds stylish Main-Spring arch shoes, which have proved very popular.

The store is very attractive. The display windows present a pleasing appearance and the store fixtures, fashioned in French walnut, show beauty in their simplicity. A balcony guarded by a wrought-iron railing adds a pleasing note. All the decorations and fixtures were supplied by Atlanta firms.

The meeting, which will be attended by approximately 600 electrical contractors and dealers from all sections of the country, is expected to outrank in the scope of its activities any of the kind ever held previously.

"Methods of credit control, their application to industry in general, and suggested improvements," is expected to constitute one of the major phases of discussion throughout the convention, it is intimated by Mr. Fulton.

BLUE RIDGE BANK CLOSED FOLLOWING SUICIDE OF OFFICER

The Fannin County bank, at Blue Ridge, closed Wednesday morning following the alleged defalcation and suicide of J. F. Holden, the cashier, the state banking department was informed Wednesday.

The closing of the bank was ordered by its board of directors. Representatives of the banking department were in charge and are making a thorough examination of the condition of the bank.

The shortage, which was said to be close to $30,000, was discovered Monday when state examiners called for a periodic examination. Holden, who was present, excused himself and left the bank.

Later, when inquiry revealed that he was not at his home, a search was instituted. Holden had driven to a point several miles from Blue Ridge and had shot himself.

CHAMBLEE FREED OF FELONY CHARGE IN BANK FAILURE

Lyerly, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—J. C. Chamblee, former president of the Bank of Menlo, which closed during the Manly chain crash in 1926, was freed of a felony charge on demand for trial by the defendant at the recent session of Chattooga county superior court.

Chamblee was indicted at the March term of superior court, being charged with accepting deposits a short time before the bank closed, knowing the bank to be insolvent at the time such deposits were accepted. This is the last of a number of criminal and civil cases filed against Chamblee since the closing of the bank.

The cases attracted a great deal of interest owing to the fact that two other banks had closed in the county a short time prior to the closing of the Bank of Menlo.

The state was assisted by W. B. Shaw, of Lafayette, G. E. Meddies, Graham Wright and Claude Porter represented Chamblee.

ROME POLICE SAY YOUTHS ADMIT THEFT

Rome, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—Earl Carpenter and Verner McQuillion, two youths who were arrested here on suspicion last night, this afternoon admitted that the watches, knives and rings found in their possession came from the City Jewelry & Loan Company, of Anniston, Ala., according to police.

They admit that they robbed the store, hitch-hiked here and attempted to steal a car for further getaway.

There is a third member of the band, but as yet he has not been apprehended.

SATURDAY NAMED WEEKLY HOLIDAY ON EMORY CAMPUS

Saturday afternoon football games and other attractions of the week-end that provide diversion for "the tired college boy" will be made available to Emory students this school year as a result of the decision to change the weekly school holiday from Mondays to Saturdays. The Monday rest day, with class work on Saturdays, has been a tradition at the institution believed to date back to the early days of Emory college at Oxford. It will be abandoned this year for the first time.

NEW TRIAL MOTION TO BE MADE TODAY IN DEANS WILL CASE

A motion for a new trial of the Deans will case will be made before Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy in Fulton superior court this morning, it was announced Wednesday by counsel for the proponent after a jury had returned a verdict setting aside the will in favor of Frank Deans, son of the late Robert E. Deans.

The hearing required a week and a half, and was the fourth jury trial of the case, three other hearings having resulted in mistrials. Counsel for W. O. Deans, brother of the late Robert E. Deans, said that if the motion for a new trial is adverse, the case will be taken to the state supreme court.

Frank Deans, a former Yale student, was left out of the will of his father, and filed a caveat, alleging that the elder Deans was not capable of making a will at the time and that undue influence was used on him. The estate is valued at approximately $50,000.

COMMISSION NAMED TO AID OBSERVANCE OF "PULASKI" DAY

Mayor Gordon Saussy, of Savannah, and 14 other citizens were named on the Georgia Pulaski Sesquicentennial commission in a proclamation by Governor L. G. Hardman Wednesday. October 11, the 150th anniversary of the death of Brigadier General Casimir Pulaski at the siege of Savannah, was designated "Pulaski Day."

Other members of the commission, which was provided for by the last legislature for the purpose of holding suitable exercises and ceremonies, are: Shelby Myrick, P. A. Stovall, Herschel V. Jenkins, Mills B. Lane, J. M. Cunningham, Jr., Mrs. Robert H. Rous, Mrs. J. E. D. Bacon, Mrs. F. E. Johnston, William Harden, General William L. Grayson, Morris H. Bernstein, Brigadier General Robert J. Travis and the Rev. Michael J. Keys.

The $1,500.00 Buick Sedan is given for promptness—So get busy now—Hurry your answer to the puzzle manager.

FIND THE TWINS MAIL YOUR ANSWER TODAY

At first glance all the young ladies look alike; but you are asked to find the Twins that are clothed exactly alike. Now then: upon closer examination you will find a difference in their wearing apparel. Have they all earrings or necklaces? How about their coats and hats? Are they trimmed the same? Some have bands on the brim and crowns, others have not. Maybe the difference is just the buttonhole in the lapel of the coat.

It takes real care and cleverness to point out the difference and find the two real Twins, because two and only two are identically the same.

When you have found the twins, write the numbers in the coupon below, fill in your name and complete address and mail at once to the Puzzle Manager, The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. In the event of ties in the final awarding, prizes of equal value will be given.

100 POINTS WINS 1st PRIZE

You will be given 90 points for finding the Twins. Immediately on receipt of your correct answer to the Twins we will send you particulars for winning the big cash prizes and the magnificent $1,500.00 Buick Sedan for promptness. No words to build—no dictionary to refer to. Everyone has an equal chance. All you will have to do then is to earn the final ten points required for the first cash prize or prizes.

Any man, woman, boy or girl, resident of Georgia or adjoining states, who is not an employee of The Atlanta Constitution, or a member of an employee's family, may submit an answer. When you have made your selection of the Twins, send in your answer.

The whole family may co-operate in this competition, but only one prize will be awarded a member of a family, or any one of a group outside of the family where two or more have been working together for a prize in any one prize group; but one person may win one prize in each of the three prize groups and also have a chance of winning the $1,500.00 automobile for promptness. This contest is conducted by The Atlanta Constitution.

You Have As Good a Chance to Win As Anyone

Just look closely—make sure that you have found the Twins, then send in your answer. Somebody who finds the right Twins is going to win a big cash prize of $500.00, $1,000.00, or $2,500.00—or better still, $4,000.00 cash and a $1,500.00 Buick automobile for promptness, a total of $5,500.00—and that some one may be and can be you if you will only try.

Think of it—you can win as much as $4,000.00 cash and a $1,500 Buick four-door sedan! Yes, sir! $7,540.00 in cash prizes may be won in this interesting puzzle contest plus the $1,500.00 Buick Sedan, and these prizes will be awarded after the close of the contest, November 12th, 1929.

NEW YORK CENTRAL TRAIN TO CHICAGO NOW IN 2 DIVISIONS

O. L. Mitchell, general agent of the New York Central lines in Atlanta, received information Wednesday that the famous Twentieth Century Limited between New York and Chicago, is no longer a "train" but that it has become a fleet of trains, of which Mr. Mitchell says: "In the past year this famous standard bearer of New York Central passenger service has been operated as 2,153 trains and has carried 240,000 passengers. In order that the Century fleet may be of still greater service, it will be operated, on and after September 29, in two divisions—the Advance Century and the Century. This will give two arrival and two departure hours of this famous train in both New York and Chicago. A new 20-hour train, with complete Century equipment and service, will supplement the Century. This de luxe limited, following the Century fleet out of both Chicago and New York, will be named The Commodore Vanderbilt, in honor of the founder of the New York Central lines. The popular Wolverine (via Michigan Central), with de luxe equipment, will also be made a 20-hour train in both directions. In addition there will be the early morning 20-hour Fast Mail from Chicago to New York. "This great fleet of nine 20-hour trains will be supplemented by seven trains making the run in 21 hours or less—four from Chicago to New York—Fifth Avenue Special, the Mohawk, Limited and the North Shore Limited (via Michigan Central), Cleveland Limited, and the Iron Horse. "With the inauguration of this additional fast service, the New York Central lines' great fleet between New York and Chicago will comprise 34 through Pullman trains, including 16 limiteds making the run in from 20 to 21 hours, the greatest fleet of fast long-distance trains operated on any railroad in the world."

G. M. SAUNDERS IS PLACED ON TRIAL IN SECURITIES CASE

G. M. Saunders, charged with violation of the Georgia securities law, went on trial Wednesday in Judge John D. Humphries' division of Fulton superior court. Judge Humphries overruled a demurrer on Tuesday. Saunders was indicted jointly with Jerry Tiffany, and several months ago entered a plea of guilty, sentence being held up pending restitution. The plea was withdrawn several weeks ago, and the case was set for trial.

EVANS WILL SPEAK ON SCHOOL MERGER PLAN HERE TODAY

Lawton B. Evans, of Augusta, superintendent of Richmond county public schools, will address the weekly meeting of the City Club at 12:30 o'clock today in the Ansley hotel. Mr. Evans will discuss the "County Unit Plan of School Organization." The meeting is open to the public. According to officers of the City Club, their organization has been keenly interested in the merger movement of city and county schools here so far as dissemination of information on both sides of the question is possible. The talk by the Augusta educator is expected to attract wide attention for this reason and preparation is being made for unusually large attendance, with provision made for caring for any of the public interested in the subject to be discussed.

SALE OF PROPERTY OF STURM CARSON NETS ONLY $2,195

Sale of the real estate and holdings of Sturm W. Carson, which was set for Wednesday morning by order of Judge Harry Dodd, referee in bankruptcy, netted only $2,195, whereas the estimated value was approximately $200,000. Judge Dodd stated that all sales were subject to confirmation at a later date and intimating that some would not be given approval. S. W. Carson and his son, W. C. Carson, are both under indictment for larceny after trust. The case Wednesday was arranged in order to attempt to raise money for creditors of the estate.

LEWIS STONE, SCREEN STAR, ASKS DIVORCE

Los Angeles, September 25.—(AP)—The Times today said Lewis S. Stone, screen star, had filed a divorce suit against his wife, Florence Oakley, on grounds of extreme cruelty. Rumors in film circles recently that the Stones had separated and that Miss Oakley had taken an apartment in Los Angeles were denied by the couple. They were married in 1920.

TOBACCO DEALERS TO MEET TONIGHT FOR ORGANIZATION

More than 150 leading tobacco dealers of the city are expected to gather at the mass meeting at 8 o'clock tonight, in the Chamber of Commerce building to effect a permanent organization of local tobaccoists. It was announced Wednesday by C. D. Harris, newly-elected president. The association is to be affiliated with the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association.

100,000 PEAR TREES WILL BE PLANTED BY MELON GROWERS

Valdosta, Ga., September 25.—(Special).—According to information received here practically all of the 100,000 pear trees bought by the Sowega Melon Association for its membership have been ordered shipped out for the fall planting.

These trees, which were kept and carefully tended for one year by the association, have attained the right size to assure rapid growth during the next season. The species is a blight-resisting tree with a record for bearing generously, and the fruit is of the kind that meets with a ready demand on the market.

HEALTH BOARD MEETS Plans for Expansion of Institutions Discussed

The state board of health at its semi-annual meeting Wednesday discussed plans for extending the work of the state sanitarium at Alto, and the home for the feeble-minded at Gracewood. Additional appropriations for each were made by the legislature. Robert F. Maddox, president of the board, presided.

HOME HYGIENE COURSE Red Cross To Give 15 Lessons for Home Makers

A series of 15 lessons in home hygiene, designed for adult homemakers, will be given at the American Red Cross, 289 1/2 Peachtree street, starting at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Registration for the course can be made this week and the first part of next week. The classes are being held under auspices of the Atlanta public school system, in co-operation with the local Red Cross.

MANLEY FACES TRIAL IN U. S. COURT OCT. 14

Indictment Containing 20 Counts Pending Against Ex-Head of Chain of Banks.

Trial of W. D. Manley on an indictment containing 20 counts and charging fraudulent use of the mails has been set on the local federal calendar for Monday, October 14, it was announced Wednesday by W. Hager, United States district attorney for the northern district of Georgia.

Manley, formerly head of a chain of banks, was indicted jointly in September, 1928, with the late Joseph A. Sasser, Paul J. Baker, Lorne R. Adams and John D. Russell, but has never stood trial in federal court. A conviction in state-court on charges of violating the state banking laws was thrown out by the supreme court on the grounds that the statute was unconstitutional.

Others named in the federal indictment were tried during February and March, 1927, and each were found guilty on two of the 20 counts, sentence being recommended in the case of Russell. Sentences of five years in the penitentiary and fines of $1,000 were meted out to all except Russell, who was sentenced to two years and a fine of $1,000. Pending hearing on motion for new trials, all were released on bail except Baker, who began serving his sentence almost immediately and recently was released on probation.

The case of the other three was carried to the circuit court of appeals and later to the supreme court, where the sentence was sustained and a rehearing denied.

Previous efforts to bring Manley to trial have failed on the showing of physicians that his health made it impossible.

Use of Milledgeville
Street by L. & N. Road
Upheld in Court Ruling

The Georgia supreme court Wednesday declined to issue an injunction restraining the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company from using Wayne street in Milledgeville for the operation of its trains.

The injunction was sought by Mrs. A. H. Paschall. It was held that the tracks on Wayne street have been in use since 1888, and that since Mrs. Paschall did not acquire her property until 1918, she could not complain of the operations of trains as a nuisance.

LEGAL ATTACK SEEN. ON CHAIN STORE TAX

Move Anticipated When Attorneys Ask Opinion on Operation of Act.

A move to attack the constitutionality of the chain store tax act was seen Wednesday when attorneys representing chain stores asked the attorney-general for an opinion as to when the tax would become effective.

The request was made by the law firm of Hans & Howell. It is understood that other attorneys of the city also have expressed interest in the question.

It was decided by the attorney-general's office that the law will become effective October 1, a clause specifically relating to that tax fixing that date and taking precedence over the date January 1, which was generally fixed as the time when the entire revenue act should become effective.

It is thought certain that a legal attack against the bill will be made

Head Ringing?

Head noises, head ringing and ear buzzing are often caused by an irritated condition of the nasal passages. There has not always been a way to get at these spots with medicine but since Dr. Blosser perfected his medical cigarette almost any one can now get wonderful relief from these annoyances without much trouble.

Dr. Blosser originated the formula over 50 years ago. It consists of berries, herbs, leaves and seeds whose smoke produces a wonderfully soothing effect on irritated nasal membranes. Just light one of these medical cigarettes and see how it eases breathing, clears out the head and brings quick relief from head ringing. Just the thing to end choking spells at night.

No tobacco or cubes—only a combination of specially medical herbs. Inexpensive and harmless for everyone. Get a box today at your druggist.

LEVEES BREAK, FLOOD WATERS INUNDATE TOWN

El Paso, Texas, September 25.—(AP)—The entire town of San Marcial, N. M., was reported inundated today following the collapse of a levee protecting the city from flood waters of the Rio Grande. There was no known loss of life, but many persons were marooned.

Seven to ten feet of water was rushing through the town, Max Earl, Santa Fe railroad fireman, reported in a telephone message to the Associated Press. Earl telephoned from the Harvey eating house in San Marcial and reported he stood in five feet of water to make the call. The wire later failed.

CHRYSLER

has now definitely raised motoring to a still higher plane. The difference in favor of the new Chrysler is decisive and overpowering. You must personally experience this new performance if you would be abreast of the times. Only by demonstration can you learn fully of the great new performance possibilities ushered in by the many characteristic new Chrysler features such as these:

MULTI-RANGE

—the new type of Chrysler gear shift by means of which the driver is able to dominate any modern traffic situation whether on the congested city streets, on the open highway, or in the mountains. You have nothing new to learn. Makes driving a joy; shifting, easy—sure—smooth. Engine, gas and oil are conserved while every previous limit of performance is far extended.

DOWN-DRAFT

—the new Chrysler carburetion principle which literally reverses previous fueling practice, with incredible gains in power, smoothness, surety, economy and accessibility. Not merely a gravity manifold, but the same scientific method of carburetion so successfully employed in many recent astonishing aviation endurance flights.

ARCHITONIC

—the new principles and methods of Architonic body construction give the new Chrysler bodies their aristocratic smartness and style, their "dreadnought" strength, permanent silence and restful riding qualities. Actually, scores of such basic betterments await you in the new Chryslers!

Federal Farm Board Head Pledges All Efforts To Make Farmers of U. S. Prosperous

Would Not Want Office Under "Misapprehension" That He Favors Haphazard Relief Plan.

BY RAYMOND Z. HENLE.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Washington, September 25.—(AP)—Alexander Legge, who gave up a $100,000 annual salary as head of the International Harvester Company to become chairman of the federal farm board, told the senate agriculture committee today he would not want that position under the "misapprehension" that he would favor a hurried or haphazard plan of farm relief.

He pledged himself to do all in his power to make the farmer prosperous by working out the agricultural problem constructively.

"I do not believe the farmer is seeking a hand-out or any charity," Legge said. "If we put this money out haphazardly no one would be benefitted and it would soon be gone."

"I believe our job should be done with consideration for measures of reasonable safety. That is what I intend to do."

With this statement, Legge completed more than four hours of testimony during which some committee members expressed dissatisfaction because the farm board has not undertaken the stabilization of wheat and cotton.

Stone To Be Heard.
At tomorrow's hearing, James C. Stone, of Kentucky, vice chairman of the board, and representative of the tobacco industry, will be heard. He was endorsed by former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois.

Chairman Legge made it plain to the committee that he favored stabilization operations in a farm commodity only when it seems necessary, and after a marketing organization considered capable of carrying out those operations had been perfected.

As for wheat, he said the Farmers' National Grain Marketing Corporation was now being organized and if stabilization is to be undertaken, that agency would be able to do it with more safety and dispatch than the board itself. He added that in time such organizations might be set up to stabilize cotton and pork.

Opposition Expected.
Although no senator favoring the stabilization of wheat and cotton would comment publicly, some hinted that opposition to Mr. Legge's confirmation on the floor of the senate seems inevitable. A number of administration leaders, however, asserted that his appointment would be approved.

After a series of questions on production and marketing, Senator Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, remarked that as he understood the chairman, he "holds out no hope of restoring the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar to its pre-war level."

"Oh, I wouldn't go that far," Legge replied.

"Well, then," the senator returned, "you hold out a hope but no guarantee."

Legge was prevented by other questioning from replying.

The board chairman said a favorable price effect was noted after arrangement of a $9,000,000 loan to the Sun-Maid Raisin interests of California. He was asked why the announcement of some concrete program or the issuance of a statement would not have helped boost the price of cotton or wheat.

"A statement on cost of production might have had a temporary beneficial effect," he replied, "but it would have been mere guesswork."

Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, contended that a statement saying the board intended to use its full resources to help conditions would have aided greatly.

"We had a right to expect the board to go right to the relief of the great staple products of this country," Smith said.

Early during Chairman Legge's testimony today he engaged in a brief verbal tilt with Senators Smith and Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, over a conversation Legge said he had had with Alf Stone, of Greenwood, Miss., an official of the Staple Cotton Cooperative Association.

Legge said Stone had told him that cotton would be produced by some growers in his territory even if the price went down to 4 cents a pound. Smith and Caraway contended that this was incredible and when Legge insisted that was what he had been told, Smith declared:

"If you are going to listen to that sort of advice, it is time to adjourn the board."

WALES NAMES PERSONAL PILOT FOR NEW SHIP

London, September 25.—(AP)—Personal air pilot to H. R. H., the Prince of Wales, is the new post created in Great Britain's royal establishment today by the appointment of E. H. Fielden of the air force officers' reserve corps to fly the plane that belongs to the heir to the throne.

This is the first time a member of the British royal family has had an air pilot attached to his establishment. Fielden, who is 26 and has a reputation as a brilliant pilot, will fly the prince in a new two-seater light airplane the prince bought recently.

It is understood that the heir to the throne does not plan to take out a pilot's certificate, but as the plane is fitted with dual controls the prince will sometimes fly it.

PAPERS ISSUED FOR EXTRADITION OF EX-BANKER

Jefferson City, Mo., September 25.—(AP)—A requisition was issued today by Governor Caulfield for the extradition of William H. Ellett, former president of the Peoples Trust Company of Chillicothe, Mo., from Bronson, Fla., for embezzlement.

Ellett is wanted for the alleged embezzlement of $1,554 in various amounts from August 27, 1924 to June 4, 1929. Livingston county officers have information he is in Bronson, Fla.

BUSINESS LEADERS WHO DRINK FLAYED

Commissioner Doran Delivers an Address Before W. C. T. U.

Indianapolis, Ind., September 25.—(AP)—Dr. James M. Doran, federal commissioner of prohibition, today attacked business leaders who regard liquor drinking an evil for their employees but who feel the law should not interfere with their own drinking.

In an address prepared for delivery before the fifty-fifth annual convention here of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Dr. Doran said it was encouraging to note that among those prominent in business "there is a growing conviction that they have individual responsibility as leaders and the laws should be respected and observed in good faith" by all alike.

"It is my conviction, and that conviction is based on all data that I can assemble, that our national prohibition policy is sound and will be maintained."

He said he knew of no economist who having studied the problem did not believe the government's policy had "brought tremendous economic advance." He likewise stated a recalled no prominent social worker who had failed to note the benefit prohibition had brought "in the social lives of the people and who has not also noted the good accomplished by the prohibition laws in direct enforcement of the degree of government and observance in the particular community."

The chief government enforcement officer commented the W. C. T. U. for its effort to make known the "good that arises from prohibition."

COSTE READY FOR HOP-OFF TO EASTWARD

Paris, September 25.—(AP)—With his plane tuned up at Le Bourget field, Dieudonne Coste, famous French flyer, is ready for another attempt to set a long distance flight record, or to brave the westward crossing of the Atlantic.

Coste brought his plane from Villacoublay yesterday and it is understood he will start Thursday, probably on an eastward distance flight. But Coste's plans have not been disclosed and it is possible he may attempt to make the Atlantic crossing. It is generally considered the season for the year is too late for such an attempt, and that if Coste flies this week it will be toward the east. He has been planning a distance flight since early summer.

AGED MERCHANT'S BODY RECOVERED FROM STREAM

Clarksville, Tenn., September 25.—(AP)—The body of L. A. Pennebaker, about 60 years old, a Clarksville shoe merchant, was found today in the Cumberland river about 200 yards from Lock B, apparently a victim of accidental drowning.

Mr. Pennebaker was on a fishing trip and was last seen about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. When he failed to return home last evening search was begun and his automobile and two fishing poles were found. The river then was dragged and his body recovered today. Believed to be dead, that he had fallen into the stream while attempting to set a pole.

A native of New Albany, Miss., Mr. Pennebaker came to Clarksville about 30 years ago. His widow and one daughter, Mrs. Pat Henry Cross, of Clarksville, survive.

BANDIT PAIR ROBS NASHVILLE CARMAN OF TWENTY DOLLARS

Nashville, Tenn., September 25.—(AP)—Two armed men early today held up G. D. Kilgo, street car motorman, at the end of his run and escaped with between $15 and $20. The robbers accosted him just as the car stopped. There were no passengers on the car at the time.

200-FOOT PLUNGE FROM ZEP HANGAR FATAL TO WORKER

Akron, Ohio, September 25.—(AP)—Plunging to his death from a height of nearly 200 feet, where he had been perched on an arch of the huge Zepelin hangar under construction here, C. O. Brown, 37, a steel worker, was killed today.

NO ACTION TAKEN

Visitors to Chicago Allege False Arrest.

Chicago, September 25.—(AP)—Robert Berryman, Memphis night club owner, and Edward Priestley, Arkansas drug store operator, had taken no action tonight against Chicago police whom they charge with kidnapping and false arrest.

The two were arrested Friday night at a Loop hotel by Lieutenant McFarland, who said they were operating a dice game. They were arraigned Monday and discharged after spending the week-end in jail.

Threats of civil action against police were made following dismissal but Clarence Berryman, assistant attorney, said tonight no suit had yet been filed.

EX-JUDGE ARRESTED

Arkansas Man Charged With Forging Warrants.

De Valls Bluff, Ark., September 25.—(AP)—George W. Craig, former county judge, and before that treasurer of Prairie county, tonight was at liberty under $1,500 bond on a charge of forging and uttering in connection with the alleged theft of warrants while he was county judge in 1928.

Craig was arrested at his home here today after an indictment was returned against him by the grand jury last week.

The complaint against Craig charges he forged three Prairie county warrants, totaling about $400.

$25,000 Fire Damage.

Bloomington, Ind., September 25.—(AP)—Examination today of damage caused by a fire last night at the Indiana university power plant indicated that loss will be less than $25,000. The principal damage was to the roof of the plant. Early reports had placed the damage as high as $200,000. The fire was said to have been caused by a short circuit.

MAXWELL FIELD PLANES ORDERED TO MANEUVERS

Washington, September 25.—(AP)—The air corps troops stationed at Maxwell field, Montgomery, Ala., have been ordered to participate in the fourth corps area field maneuvers at Camp Jackson, S. C., October 1 to 21.

The war department announced today that the maneuvers will bring together a large concentration from all branches of the military service in the area. The Twenty-second observation squadron and the Fourth photo section will send six airplanes to the maneuvers carrying 15 officers, while the mechanics and other personnel will make the journey in trucks.

Upon the completion of the maneuvers the Twenty-second squadron will be sent to the maneuvers today to engage in machine gun and bombing practice.

FORMER CRACKER GUILTY OF MURDER OF SWEETHEART

Harrisburg, Pa., September 25.—(United Press.)—Samuel "Red" Crane, who 10 years ago played in the baseball classic, the world series, tonight was found guilty of second degree murder and faces a sentence of from 10 to 20 years in prison.

Crane was convicted of the killing of his former sweetheart, Della Lyter, who was shot down in a cafe here on the night of August 3.

John D. Oren, her escort, also fell under the bullets which Crane emptied from his revolver.

The verdict came after the jury had deliberated for less than three hours. Crane still must stand trial for the death of Oren.

Crane came to Atlanta in 1918 and played short for the Crackers for about three months. He left when war interrupted the baseball season. After the war he played for a while in various leagues but did not figure prominently with any team.

Wilson Named Master.

Tampa, Fla., September 25.—(AP)—Acting under authority of state prohibition headquarters at Jacksonville, M. C. Hendrix, prohibition agent in charge here, said that in future many liquor cases would be filed in circuit court by federal men, thus relieving a crowded federal court docket. Four such cases were filed in county court yesterday.

MORE HOSPITALIZATION NEEDED FOR VETERANS

American Legion Makes Plea to Government for Adequate Necessities.

Louisville, Ky., September 25.—(AP)—A plea that the government begin at once a building program that will provide hospital beds for all mentally disabled veterans is made in the report of the national rehabilitation committee of the American Legion, announced today at the legion's headquarters, moved here temporarily from Indianapolis for the convention next week.

"There are at present 52,000 mentally afflicted World War veterans whose disabilities are connected with the service and for which they are now in receipt of compensation," says the report. "Yet less than one-fourth of these veterans—12,000—are now in veterans' bureau hospitals, receiving government care and treatment."

"The condition of many of these 40,000 veterans is steadily growing worse," the report continues. "Soon thousands of them will require hospitalization. It frequently takes from a month to three months or longer to secure a hospital bed."

Through the efforts of the committee a total of $4,127,225 was recovered for veterans and their dependents during the fiscal year ended June 30, says the report. This was said to be an increase of more than $1,500,000 over the preceding fiscal year.

W. J. GRACE RESIGNS FEDERAL POST

Macon, Ga., September 25.—(AP)—Walter J. Grace, assistant United States attorney of the middle district of Georgia, has tendered his resignation to District Attorney W. A. Bottle, it was announced today. It is effective October 1. Mr. Grace announced that he would return to the private practice of law. His successor has not been named.

REPORTS TELL HORROR OF MOSLEM MASSACRE

Chinese Slaughter 3,000 Famine-Stricken Mohammedans.

Hankow, China, September 25.—(AP)—Additional details of the alleged Chinese massacre of 3,000 Moslems in a remote part of Kansu province indicate the affair took place at Taichow, an old city in southwest Kansu, on the Tau river.

According to information considered authentic following the period of China-Moslem conflict in south Kansu, which is a part of a general Mohammedan rebellion in Kansu, going on during the last two years in the southwest of the province, Chinese authorities, under the order of provincial authorities at Lanchow, asked Moslems to convene at Taichow for a conference and to receive roasted barley.

Following the Moslems' arrival all of the males between the ages of 15 and 50 were separated from the women and children, taken outside the city walls and "butchered like sheep."

No word reached the women until the following day when pitiful scenes were enacted while women sought to identify their dead.

The Moslems were concentrated in Taichow as a result of intense famine in southwest Kansu, which resulted in thousands of Mohammedans being reduced to starvation, their suffering intensified by being forced to live unsheltered as a result of their warfare with the Chinese.

As a result of these conditions it was considered that the Moslems were willing to meet the Chinese at Taichow in the hopes of securing food. Reports indicate when the Moslems became aware the Chinese authorities intended to kill them they requested no mercy.

COURT DECIDES VACANCY EXISTS. APPOINTS JUDGE

New Orleans, La., September 25.—(AP)—The supreme court held today that a vacancy existed in the Bossier-Minden Louisiana judicial district and appointed Judge Thomas F. Bell, of the first judicial district, to hear cases in the place of Judge Harmon C. Frew, who sent his resignation to Governor Huey P. Long, who refused to accept it. Acceptance would force an election while delay would give the governor power to appoint.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE. Write The Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.—(adv.)

DEBUTANTES NAME MISS CATHERINE NORCROSS LEADER

Organization Meeting Held At Piedmont Driving Club

Miss Catherine Norcross was elected president of the 1929-30 Debutante Club at the organization meeting held yesterday at the Piedmont Driving Club, with the corps of officers chosen to serve with her including Miss Boyce Lokey, vice president; Miss Martha Worth Rogers, secretary, and Miss Augusta Porter, treasurer.

Miss Norcross is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Norcross, who were prominent in the social and civic life of Atlanta. She attended Washington seminary where she was a member of the Phi Pi sorority, and completed her education at the fashionable Finch school in New York. During the past year Miss Norcross, with Miss Adeline Winston, another debutante of this season, traveled extensively in Europe. In May Miss Norcross and Miss Winston had the honor of being presented at the court of St. James in London to Queen Mary and King George.

Miss Lokey is the attractive daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Lokey. She received her education at Girls' High school and Sweetbriar college in Virginia. She is a member of the Phi Pi sorority and the Pirates Club. This past summer Miss Lokey spent in traveling in California and other western states, and has recently returned to Atlanta.

Miss Rogers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Rogers. She attended Washington seminary, where she was a member of the Phi Pi sorority, Omega national sorority, being president of that organization last year. Later she was a student at the University of Georgia at Athens, where she was a popular member of the Chi Omega national sorority, being president of that organization last year.

Miss Rogers is planning to return to the university to continue her studies after Christmas.

Miss Porter is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Porter. She attended Washington seminary and was a member of the O. B. X. sorority. She later went to Sweetbriar college in Virginia, and last week returned from an extensive tour of Europe, where she has been the past three months.

These attractive young girls are members of Atlanta's most representative families and have all enjoyed unusual popularity during their school days here.

There were 20 debutantes present at the meeting yesterday. Miss Billy Johnson, the president of the last year club, presided at the meeting. The charity for which the club will devote its time this coming year was not decided upon. However, several were mentioned by Miss Johnson. It was decided that the next meeting will be held at the home of the new president, Miss Norcross, next Monday afternoon.

The following members of the Debutante Club were present: Misses Margaret Kelly, Leila Mason, Ruth Rowbotham, Myra Boynton, Peggy Pindexter, Lucy Little Fankhouser, Grace Powell, Frances Howard, Helen

State Entomologist Will Speak Before Peachtree Garden Club Next Monday

Peachtree Garden Club meets with Mrs. Albert E. Thornton at her home on Fifth street Monday afternoon, September 30, at 3 o'clock, and Manning S. Yoemans, state entomologist, will address the membership upon a timely subject, which will aid in the cultivation and care of flowers and shrubs entitled, "Prevalent Insects and Diseases of Flowers and Shrubs."

Appointments Committee. Mrs. Robert L. Cooney, president of the club, will preside and will appoint a nominating committee as the annual election of officers takes place at the October meeting. Mesdames Jesse Draper, Phinixy Calhoun and Prince Webster have been appointed from the Peachtree Garden Club to arrange the exhibit at the Southeastern Florists Association flower show to be staged at the auditorium in November. The display in this particular show will take the place of the fall show heretofore sponsored by Peachtree Garden Club. Mrs. Cooney spoke before the Seven Hills Garden Club in Rome, Ga., her subject being "The Garden Club of Georgia and Its Possibilities." She was invited by Mrs. W. W. Berry, president of the Rome club, and was honor guest at luncheon given before the meeting. The Horticultural Society of Georgia meets in Thomaston, Ga., October 17 and 18 and Mrs. Cooney has also been invited to be a distinguished speaker on the program, her subject to relate to horticultural matters. She has been signally honored by the New York Horticultural Society to speak before that body in January upon "Southern Gardens," a familiar subject to Mrs. Cooney, who has been for several years at the helm of the Peachtree Garden Club, suggested the movement and organized the Garden Clubs of Georgia in Atlanta two years ago.

She is well-informed upon the cultivation of flowers, superintending the planting and growing experience from the gardens surrounding her home on Ponce de Leon avenue in Druid Hills, giving much time and study to horticulture. Her fame as an interesting speaker, and one well-versed in the subject upon which she elects to talk, makes Mrs. Cooney a very desirable speaker, and insures entertainment for the membership of an organization before which she appears.

Mrs. Clark Honors Mrs. H. F. Peterson.

Miss Muriel Burt Weds Mr. Cross At Park St. Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Muriel Burt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burt, to Benjamin Merriam Cross, son of Mrs. R. M. Cross, was beautifully solemnized at 2:30 P. M. Wednesday evening at the Park Street Methodist church. The Rev. Marvin Franklin, pastor of the church, performed the impressive double ring ceremony in the presence of a representative gathering of relatives and friends.

The altar of the church was banked with palms, greenery and ferns against which tall baskets of white gladioli and dahlias interspersed with seven branched candelabra stood in bold relief. Ferns, dahlias and gladioli were used with artistic arrangement throughout the church. Pew reserved for members of the two families were designated by streamers of tulle holding clusters of dahlias.

The Musical Program. Preceding the ceremony a musical program was rendered. Mrs. E. E. Aiken, organist of the church; Mrs. Genevieve Modena, well known soprano; Mrs. Mary Griffith Dobbs, and Miss Ruth Allen, harpists, presented a number of appropriate selections. Mrs. Modena sang "All for You" by Brown, and "The Day of Golden Promise." During the ceremony Mrs. Dobbs and Miss Allen sustained a duet-toned duet as an obligato to the marriage service. Mrs. Aiken heralded the approach of the wedding party with the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, using the bridal chorus from Mendelssohn as the recessional.

The maid of honor was Miss Mabel Burt, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Misses Elizabeth Jackson, Velma Mitchell and Martha Higginson. They entered alternately with the groomsmen who were: Harold Cherry, Lonnie DeLoach and A. M. Burt, brother of the bride. The bride's attendants wore gowns of varying shades of beige fashioned with sleeveless bodices and graceful full skirts featuring the uneven hem line. Miss Burt carried a magnificent sheaf of Columbia roses showered with Swazania. The bridesmaids' bouquets were of tallisman roses tied with streamers of tulle in shades to correspond with their gowns.

The little flower girls, Betty and Dorothy Yarbrough, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Yarbrough, wore dainty frocks of pink chiffon, featuring skirts and sleeves offset with tiny ruffles. From a basket of roses she scattered petals in the path of the bride.

The Lovely Bride. The bride, who entered with her father, Arthur Burt, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Alton Martin. She was never more lovely than in her wedding gown of eggshell satin featuring a tight sleeveless bodice and graceful full skirt gracing from knee to ankle length. A court train of the same satin fell from her shoulders. Her misty tulle veil, which had been worn by her mother, Mrs. Arthur Burt, upon the occasion of her wedding, was caught to her hair in cap effect by a wreath of orange blossoms across the front of the face. She carried a sheaf of bride's roses and lilies which she showered with lilies and dainty streamers of eggshell satin in ribbon. She wore a gold necklace and bracelet, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Burt, mother of the bride, wore a model of tan lace fashioned along straight lines and offset with a shoulder bouquet of Columbia roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Cross, mother of the groom, was gown in a model of black satin offset with touches of cream lace.

The Wedding Trip. The young couple left for an extended motor trip through the south-east. Mrs. Cross was accompanied by brown flat crepe featuring an eggshell satin blouse. A beige fox fur, close-fitting brown felt hat and accessories to match completed the costume. After October 15 Mr. and Mrs. Cross will be at home at 562 Langhorn street.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Mrs. D. J. Spiva, aunt of the groom, of Camden, Ala.; and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McDaniel, of Camden, aunt and uncle of the groom.

Good FOOD

is a good

Those young people are healthiest and happiest who eat enough. Sugar in improving the flavor of healthful foods induces us to eat a sufficient amount, and to enjoy eating.

To keep young bodies strong—to strengthen young lungs against tuberculosis—to give the children strength to face rainy days and chilly days, school-year in and school-year out . . . urge that they eat enough.

Vegetables, cereals, fruits, milk—all these are daily essentials. If vegetables are bland in flavor, add a dash of sugar to the string beans when put on to cook . . . or to the peas . . . to the spinach . . . to the carrots, and they will emerge so well-flavored that children and adults will like them. Sugar brings out flavor in cooking, mellowing this, accentuating that one. Tasty desserts—puddings, pies, ice cream, candy and cakes have their place in every well-balanced diet. Have them daily. You can get them at your grocer's and bake shops of just as fine quality as if you made them at home.

Remember that sugar is a quick energy nutriment to feed the active energies of busy people. With sugar as a flavor people enjoy the varied foods, so necessary to our well being. Sugar, nature's perfect flavor, increases the pleasure of eating. The Sugar Institute.

Women find complete warm-weather comfort in this new sanitary protection

You are assured freedom for outdoor activities—safety for filmiest dresses . . . with Kotex, the really comfortable sanitary pad

THE supreme test of a sanitary pad is its comfort in warm weather.

Then is when you want lightness . . . coolness . . . perfect fit. Then is when you want protection without bulk, absorbency without packing.

That is why women say Kotex is absolutely indispensable in southern climates. Kotex is made of the lightest, coolest substance that can be used . . . Cellucotton absorbent wadding. This is the filler that 85% of the leading hospitals use for surgical dressings, because of its amazing comfort and great powers of absorption. Kotex absorbs 16 times its own weight of moisture! Five times more than any cotton substance.

Kotex always inconspicuous

Other features that make Kotex especially desirable in warm weather are its rounded, tapered corners that assure complete concealment under thin frocks . . . its special deodorizing process that removes all possibility of offense . . . and its easy disposability. The layers of filler can be adjusted.

KOTEX IS SOFT . . .

- 1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.
- 2—Safe, secure . . . keeps your mind at ease.
- 3—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton yet absorbs 5 times as much.
- 4—In hospitals . . . Kotex is the identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals.
- 5—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a patented process.

Kotex—45¢ for 12—at any drug, dry goods or department store.

Miss Moon Weds Reuben Garland in LaGrange, Ga.

La Grange, Ga., September 25.—The marriage of Miss Faunleroy Winston Moon, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Edward Thomas Moon, to Reuben Augustus Garland, of Atlanta, was solemnized this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. Moon, on Broad street. The Rev. Walter P. Binn, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a gathering of the immediate families of the bride and groom.

The improvised altar in the living room, where the ceremony was performed, was banked with ferns, against which stood tall floor baskets of pink and lavender dahlias. Flanked by two seven-branched candelabra holding slender white burning tapers which illumined the scene. The drawing room was artistically decorated with baskets of Monkey Rag lilies, jupons and buds, of pink, lavender and yellow, interspersed with lighted tapers. The same flowers were used throughout the home.

Lovely Bride.
The bride was given in marriage by her father, Judge Edward Thomas Moon. She wore a sky blue transparent velvet ensemble featuring a flared tulle skirt and blouse of flesh chiffon offset with drapery held with pearl ornaments. The fingertip coat was lined with flesh chiffon. Her hat of gold and black lace, fitted close in front, with extended back, was trimmed with bows of blue velvet. She carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

The Reception.
Following the service a reception was held at the home of the bride. The bride's table, which was overlaid with a handsome lace cover, was ornamented with a lavender embossed wedding cake embedded in giant lavender dahlias which were surrounded with smaller mounds of dahlias and silver candlesticks holding green tapers with hillyow tulle. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Prominent Families.
The bride-elect is a young woman of unusual charm and is the sister of Misses Louise Moon and Mary Tinsley Moon. She is related on both

Library and Round Table Discussions Planned by Druid Hills Garden Club

The establishment of a circulating library and institution of round table discussions will feature the Druid Hills Garden Club meeting, held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anne Bates Walsh on North Decatur road. Mrs. J. C. Malone will act as club librarian, the library to be located in her home on Fairview road, wherein club members may secure books. This interesting feature was the suggestion of Mrs. Harold Coolidge, president of Druid Hills Garden Club, under whose leadership the club is flourishing and sponsoring progressive movements. It was voted at the last meeting held at Mrs. D. T. Robinson's home, to institute a round table discussion the last 15 minutes before the close of the business session of every meeting, with Mrs. J. C. Malone conducting. The first of these discussions comes up at today's meeting, and garden problems of members will be brought before the membership and solved if possible. Should there be no answer given to a problem, Mrs. Coolidge will appoint one member to study the moot question and state the cause and cure at the following meeting.

"What To Do in Gardens in October" will be Mrs. Malone's subject at this afternoon's meeting, chosen in order to offer suggestions for members to follow up with questions. Mrs. Bruce Hall of Decatur, a pioneer in gardening and a horticultural authority, speaks to the members, her subject being "Garden Designs." The flower show sponsored by the club Friday, October 4, at Druid Hills Golf Club, will be made a community affair, and invitation is extended to members of other garden clubs in Druid Hills to exhibit flowers culled from their gardens. Mesdames Arthur Tufts and Lane Young are co-chairmen of the flower show.

$600 Contributed To Musical Fund For Education

The amount of $600 has been received and sent to an ambitious, talented and appreciative musical student to complete her education by the committee composed of Mesdames James R. Little, chairman; Charles B. Boynton, John M. Cooper and William J. Kendrick.

The sponsors of this fund were inspired to raise the above required amount through the devotion and interest of the teacher of this student, Mrs. Mabelle S. Wall, who, although in New York city, has given her support and assistance as well as enthusiasm to the cause. Mrs. Little and her co-workers express appreciation for the generous response contributed to this worthy cause, this fact making the labor of these women a pleasurable incident.

You Must Be "A-wearin' o' the Green"...

whether you're Irish or not! This year the French, too, are singing this song . . . and calling for the deep subtle shade that makes one think of clinging moss. "English Green" it is called, and is sponsored by Augusta Bernard, Vionnet, Paray and Le Long.

It is a most refreshing color, and for tailored day-time and afternoon wear its dignity and charm have yet to be surpassed.

Miss Nell Quarles Weds Mr. Jackson at Home Ceremony

A marriage of social interest was that of Miss Nell Terry Quarles to Hunter Gibson Jackson, which was solemnized at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ellamae Terry Quarles, on North Rock Springs road. The Rev. T. R. Kendall, Sr., former pastor of Grace Methodist church, performed the ceremony. The house was decorated with palms, ferns and pastels. A buffet table was served. The bride was escorted by her brother, Mr. J. B. Quarles, and the groom by his brother, Mr. J. B. Quarles. The bride wore a gown of blue velvet and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword. The ceremony was attended by many guests.

Miss Isabella McNeill Carpenter, the maid of honor, entered alone. She wore a beige chiffon gown made in long graceful lines, and a large hat of two-tone beige felt. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The bride and groom were seated at a table with the maid of honor and best man. The ceremony was a home ceremony.

izing blue. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and valley lilies. Mrs. Ellamae Terry Quarles, mother of the bride, was given in marriage to Mr. Hunter Gibson Jackson. The bride's father, Mr. J. B. Quarles, was a prominent citizen of Atlanta. The groom's father, Mr. Hunter Gibson Jackson, was a prominent citizen of Atlanta.

The bride received her education at the North Avenue Presbyterian school and Washington seminary, afterwards specializing in commercial art. She is the only daughter of Mrs. Ellamae Terry Quarles and granddaughter of the late William M. Terry, retired capitalist of Atlanta. The bride is a niece of Mrs. J. G. Ison and Mrs. T. R. Ewing, one of the most prominent and influential attorneys of the state. Her ancestry dates back to Lieutenant Colonel William Terry, famous as a leader of the Halifax county militia of Virginia during the American revolution. She is also a descendant of Lieutenant Felix Thurman, of Revolutionary Virginia. Mr. Jackson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Jackson, of Asheville, N. C. His father, before his recent retirement, was prominent in business circles of the state. He was educated in the public schools of Asheville, and after his graduation from high school he attended the Georgia School of Technology. He is a descendant of the Hull and Jackson families of Maryland and Virginia. He represents the Simmons Hardware Company in the states of North and South Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson left after the wedding for the mountains of North Carolina and other points of interest, and will make their home in Spartanburg, S. C. The bride's traveling suit was a brown ensemble with an orange satin blouse. A brown Dobbs felt hat completed her costume. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Jackson, Misses Margaret and Helen Jackson, Frank Jackson, of Asheville and Matthews Harrison, of Charlotte, N. C.

PETER TEASES FLIP.
BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Who would his friends and neighbors please find it doesn't pay to tease.
—Old Mother Nature.

What was that? Flip the Terrier threw up his head to listen. That noise had come from inside the dear Old Briar-patch. It could mean but one thing and that was that some one was in there. There it was again—thump, thump! Flip's ears were cocked forward. He stood perfectly still, excepting for a little quiver that ran over him now and then. It was a quiver of excitement. He was staring into the dear Old Briar-patch. It was dark in there and he could see nothing. Once more sounded that thump, as if some one were striking the ground hard. Then Flip got a glimpse of some one or something moving.

For the first time Flip got a good view of Peter.

Of course you know who was thumping. It was Peter Rabbit. There was anger in those thumps. Yes, sir, there was an angry sound in those thumps. Finally, Peter began to hop along one of those private little paths. He was hopping along toward Flip. He wanted Flip to see him. Peter had a plan in his head. Yes, sir, Peter had a plan in his head. He wanted Flip to be taught a lesson. He couldn't possibly hurt Flip himself, but perhaps he could get the friendly briars to help.

For the first time Flip got a good view of Peter and he began to dance about excitedly. "That's the fellow I chased into the hole in the old wall!" he exclaimed. "Yes, sir, that's the very same fellow! There isn't any old wall here and I'll get him." He began to follow along the outer edge of the dear Old Briar-patch as Peter moved along inside. When he came to one of Peter's little paths he started to crawl in. But there was a bramble bush right there and though he flattened himself as much as he could, those brambles made him yelp. Meanwhile Peter had moved along, grinning as he heard those little yelps.

Flip was growing more and more excited. Every time he came to a little opening that seemed to lead into the dear Old Briar-patch, he rushed at it and tried to get in. Each time it brought a yelp—sometimes two or three—for each time the brambles scratched him. Peter Rabbit was enjoying it. He grew bolder. He would stop and sit in plain sight just back of a bramble bush, and chuckle to himself as Flip grew more and more excited and did his best to get in there. Peter was teasing Flip. Meanwhile, little Mrs. Peter was keeping out of sight. She didn't approve of what Peter was doing. She didn't approve at all. But there was nothing she could do about it and so she sat still. Flip hadn't discovered her at all. It was his own nervousness that dog barking outside the dear Old Briar-patch and doing his best to get in. What if he should succeed in getting in? He was a small dog and he might get in. She did wish that Peter would stop his teasing.

Peter didn't stop. He grew bolder. He hadn't the least bit of fear. He hoped that that dog would get inside the dear Old Briar-patch. You see, he knew that at best Flip could do no more than creep along those little paths of his where they went through the brambles. In many places they were regular little tunnels through the brambles. Peter could hop along through them comfortably, but anyone bigger than Peter would have to crawl through them and would be likely to be well scratched doing it. That is the reason Peter was not afraid. That is the reason he grew bolder and bolder in his teasing of Flip.

SICK HEADACHE AND DIZZINESS

Relief Found Through the Use of Theodor's Black-Draught.

Anderson, S. C.—"For a number of years, I took Theodor's Black-Draught for biliousness, and as a laxative," writes Mrs. Sudie Webb, of 226 North Tower Street, this city. "I used to have severe sick headaches, when I would get very nauseated and dizzy. I would have to go to bed. 'After my head quit aching, I would feel weak and dizzy. Seemed like I would drop everything I would pick up. This dizziness would last two or three days. 'I found that Black-Draught would give relief and seemed to cleanse the system. After I found this out, when I felt a headache coming on, I would take Black-Draught and keep it off. I did this for several years, avoiding a lot of pain and suffering. I can highly recommend Black-Draught. The medicine which this South Carolina lady mentions is also recommended by thousands of others because of the benefit it has been to them."

Miss Greene And Lewis M. Peebles Are Wedded

Cartersville, Ga., September 25.—Mrs. Joel Garnette Greene, Jr., announces the marriage of her daughter, Marion Garnette, to Lewis Munford Peebles on Saturday evening, September 21, at 7 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rexford Moore in Bristol, Va. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert Yost, of the theological department of Sullins college and also an instructor at Kings college, of Bristol.

The lovely bride was visiting her schoolmate, Mrs. Moore, and Mr. Peebles lived in Virginia, where the marriage, originally planned to take place several weeks later, was solemnized. Mrs. Peebles is the only daughter of Geneva Ataway and the late Joel Garnette Greene. Her paternal grandfather was one of the leading physicians of north Georgia and her maternal grandfather, William S. Ataway, was one of the pioneer citizens of northeast Georgia. She received her high school education at Noble institute, Anniston, Ala. Her college course was completed at Sullins college, Bristol, and with a two years' course at Peabody college, at Nashville, Tenn., where she was president of her class for three years, and also president of the Alabama Club and the Chemistry Club.

Mr. Peebles is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar T. Peebles, who are among the most prominent residents of Cartersville, and a grandson of the late Lewis Sims Munford, of Cartersville, and the late William O. Peebles, of Chattanooga. He is the brother of Mrs. Joel T. Daves, of Atlanta. He was educated at the Cartersville public school, later going to Lawrenceville, N. J., and was in the class of 1923 of Princeton, a member of Tiger Inn Club. Mr. Peebles manages his home in Cartersville, where he is associated in business with the Etowah Development Company, and he and his bride are numbered among the popular members of Cartersville society.

Double Steal Gives Barons 1-0 Victory Over Dallas in Opener

LIGHT LINE IMPERILS 'GATORS' CHANCES

DOUBLE STEAL WINS OPENER FOR BARONS, 1-0

Ludolph, Slab Ace, Holds Texans to Two Hits in First.

By E. D. Ball, Associated Press Staff Writer.
Birmingham, Ala., September 25.—(AP)—A master mind outguessed and outtricked his opposition in the seventh inning of the opening game of the Dixie series here today and Johnny Dobbs' Birmingham Barons, Southern association champions, defeated Dallas, Texas league pennant winners, 1 to 0.

The game packed all the thrills that a championship contest between two teams playing brilliant, heads-up baseball can carry, with Dick Ludolph, Birmingham ace, and George Connally, Steer hurler, the star performers in one of the greatest exhibitions of pitching a Dixie series has produced. Ludolph allowed but two hits and Connally three.

But for a brief period of wildness when he served Moose Clabaugh, Barons outfielder, four wild ones to start the seventh, which led to his ultimate downfall, Connally hurled on even terms with Ludolph.

Barons Turn Trick.
After Clabaugh walked, Weiss popped out and Ernie Smith planted a single in short left field, Clabaugh bailing at second. He moved on to third when Bennett forced Smith. A perfectly executed double steal followed.

Dobbs flagged Bennett to second to start the steal and Connally tossed to first gambling on tagging Bennett for the third out. In the meantime Clabaugh headed for home with a good start gained when Bennett was caught in a chase. The ball was thrown to third and Jeffries' throw to the plate was a fraction high but it was doubtful if a perfect throw would have caught the runner.

Ludolph opened the game by retiring the Steers on four pitched balls. The Barons likewise went out in order. Harvel was the first Dallas man to reach first when Smith batted his high bouncer in the second but on the next pitched ball, Country Davis hit into a double play.

The Stockmen made a scoring gesture in the third when Morse was walked by Ludolph and Connally sacrificed him to second. Flankamer was called out on strikes and Connally's line drive.

First Dallas Hit.
The first Dallas hit was a single in the seventh by Bischoff but he failed to pass the initial sack. Radcliffe, batting for Connally in the eighth, slung a drive toward the temporary stands which Clabaugh caught just before falling into the stands, performing his second brilliant fielding feat of the day.

Ludolph accounted for the third Barons hit with a single off Barnabe who went into the box to relieve Connally in the eighth. He proceeded no further.

Only his recovery in the pinches saved Ludolph from disaster. He walked a half dozen Dallas batsmen, opening three innings with free passes. Connally gave up three passes to first.

Tarheels Install Announcing System

Chapel Hill, N. C., September 25.—Through a Western Electric announcing system, which is to be installed tomorrow, every detail of the Wake Forest game Saturday and other games played in Kenan stadium at the University of North Carolina this season will be carried to the spectators in all sections of the huge amphitheater, it was learned tonight.

Equipped with a microphone, an announcer on the side lines will follow each play and relay his report immediately to large amplifiers which are being installed on either side of the field.

The announcer's report will give complete information concerning such important details as the name of the player carrying the ball, the tackler, yardage gained or lost, penalties, and so on.

Loughran Makes Debut Tonight As Heavyweight

Tommy Loughran

New York fight fans will see Tommy Loughran fighting as a heavyweight tonight when he meets Jack Sharkey in a 15-round bout that should aid considerably in clearing up the muddled heavyweight title situation.

SLOAN FAVORED AS JACKET END THIS SEASON

Scrub Shifts From Tackle and Looks Like Varsity Starter.

While the observers were peering somewhere else Lindy Sloan, shifted from tackle to end two weeks ago, has apparently decided one position on the Yellow Jacket eleven.

Indications are that he will be a starter at right end this fall. Powerful and spirited, his story reads like one of fiction. Last year he was not even on the varsity squad. He played at tackle with the Gray Devils and the reserves. He was always powerful and always a tryer. Yet he never found himself.

This fall Coach Bill Alexander decided to experiment with a line backer Sloan over to Coach H. W. Robertson's squad of ends. He piled in there, trying as he did at tackle. At the end of the year he was not even on the varsity squad. He played at tackle with the Gray Devils and the reserves. He was always powerful and always a tryer. Yet he never found himself.

No definite announcement has been made by Coach Alexander as to what his lineup will be. But Sloan is running at end and all indications are that he will be the starter this fall.

Georgia Tech's half, lane and well walked right into a lecture room yesterday afternoon without a hint of lameness or throbbing muscles.

It was the second day of rest, due to too much rainfall. It came as a healing measure to Stumpy Thomas, Warner Mizell, Coot Watkins and others who have been suffering from small yet handicapping injuries.

The lecture hall to do with the plays which the Jacket varsity will employ this fall.

"If it keeps on raining," said The Men at the Plats, "I think I'll call Johnny Herring at Mississippi A. M. and we'll diagram the game. I'll put in 11 men and he'll and the side which diagrams their plays best will win."

The weather played into the hands of men who were desirous of a rest. The lecture room if it was raining at late as 2 o'clock. At ten minutes past the rain halted and the sun came out, playing hide and seek with the clouds.

"Well, I guess I can accomplish more with a mental drill than a physical one in the mud this afternoon," sighed Coach "Ellick" as he went into the lecture room.

Tech's squad this year seems to be getting the plays satisfactorily. Ordinarily there are three or four men on any football team who have difficulty.

"Any boy who has difficulty getting plays in his head simply lacks the power of visualizing them. I've had good students who couldn't get football plays simply because they couldn't make a mental picture of it in their minds."

The Jackets have a scrimmage scheduled for this afternoon. On Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock they will scrimmage with the freshman team, using the lights on C-field for the first time.

TOM LOUGHRAN AND SHARKEY CLASH TONIGHT

Battle Will Clear Domestic Heavy Tangle; Neither Favored.

By Frank Getty, United News Sports Editor.

New York, September 25.—Not since one memorable bluster night on the shore of Lake Michigan—the night of the "long count" at Soldiers field—have two American heavyweights met in a contest of the importance of that which takes place between Jack Sharkey, of Boston, and Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, Thursday night.

During the two years since the final, definite passing of Dempsey as a fighter, the heavyweight situation has been a puzzle to the fans of the nation. First there was no one with striking distance of Gene Tunney. After the champion's retirement there was no one remotely worthy of recognition as titleholder.

SHARKEY UNIMPRESSIVE.
Jack Sharkey, put out of the running by Dempsey at this same Yankee stadium over two years ago, has been a vociferous if unimpressive candidate for the heavyweight championship since Tunney's withdrawal from the field.

Now Tommy Loughran has come up from the 175-pound ranks to challenge Sharkey's claim to be the outstanding American heavyweight.

While the country's canvas swarms with foreign behemoths of bust, these two are the best of the domestic product.

Some 40,000 spectators will pay nearly $300,000 to watch them in action for 15 rounds or so at the ball park tomorrow night. A majority of the clients will be rooting for Loughran, who is more popular of the pair, as well as the smaller.

Tommy will be outweighed by ten pounds, whatever his manager and handlers claim. He will be up against a skillful boxer with a good left hand and a mean eye, and the Philadelphia man is in for plenty of trouble.

EVEN MONEY.
The odds are said to favor Loughran by a shade, but they should be at even money. There is more sentiment for Tommy, but calmer, studied judgment, which, of course, never won a prize fight for anyone—leans to Sharkey.

It may be that the boys mean they are anxious to see the intentions of murdering one another, but it is hardly likely. Neither has shown any tendency that way in the past.

New York, September 25.—(AP)—The supporting card for the Sharkey-Loughran bout was jolted today when Emanuel, San Francisco

HULL, HERRING CLASH TONIGHT

Popular Texan Meets Tough Foe in Auditorium Match.

Clyde Hull, the battling Texan who gained much favor in Atlanta recently in his two sparkling fights with Ted Goodrich, will go against another man of the same caliber here tonight in the feature bout of an all-star card at the city auditorium.

"Red" Herring, a veteran of the ring and at one time one of the leading lightweights of the country, will meet Hull over the 18-round card in the final bout of a card of 36 rounds of fighting.

The 10-round main events and a six-round opener will make up the card arranged by Matchmaker Eddie Hanlon for tonight. The first bout will get off at 8:30 o'clock.

HULL POPULAR.
Since coming to Atlanta, Hull has won many friends here and will draw a large crowd of followers to the ringside for his bout tonight. He fought Ted Goodrich, one of the best welterers ever to pull on a glove in this section, twice, and, although suffering with an injured knee, put up two of the best exhibitions seen in the auditorium ring in some time.

Herring should prove a good match for Hull.

The Memphis fighter is now enjoying one of his best years in the ring, and his word yesterday, and he states that he is in excellent physical shape. He is one of the cleverest fighters in these parts and will keep Hull busy.

ROJAS MEETS O'HARA.
In the other 10-rounders, Paul Rojas, Cuban fighter, will take on Brady O'Hara, of Jacksonville, and Glenn Hickey, who has been fighting in the Orient, will meet Jack Cowan. Hanlon is confident these bouts will stack up with the Hull-Herring bout.

Casey Jones, young Atlanta scrapper, will fight Jack McMullen in the six-round opening bout.

As an added attraction, Hanlon has arranged to give the round-by-round accounts of the Tommy-Loughran-Jack Sharkey fight at New York tonight. Hanlon believes this will prove popular with the fans and will not interfere with his card.

Ladies are invited to attend the fights and will be admitted free of charge.

Here is the kicking, running, passing load of dynamite that Coach Bernie Bierman, of Tulane, is counting on to carry the Green Wave places in the Dixie football scramble. It is none other than the terrible Billy Banker, triple threat of the Green Wave. The Blond Blizzard is looking forward to a big season.

'TROCK' PATE JOINS TIGERS

Fullback Worries at Auburn Appear Ended as Star Struts Stuff.

Auburn, Ala., September 25.—Roy Heflin "Trock" Pate, the much-sought after player, reported to Coach Bollinger for the first time Wednesday afternoon and immediately was sent into scrimmage against the rodents. He blocked effectively and also hit the line several times for lengthy gains. The fullback worries of Coach Bollinger's might be solved with the arrival of Pate, as he was a star on the frosh team last season and, judging from his performance his first day out, the other potential fullbacks will have to do some mighty brilliant playing if they out the former Woodlawn High school star.

Forney Yarbrough, Atlanta lad, also showed up well at fullback during the lengthy scrimmage with the frosh eleven. Yarbrough lacks experience at his new post as he performed at end last season, but is progressing rapidly as the opening game with Birmingham Southern drew near.

The Tigers looked much better against Coach McFadden's rats Wednesday than they did Tuesday. After ramming over several touchdowns, the Bohlmen practiced aerial heaves very effectively. Crawford and Tamplin did most of the passing.

The Plainsmen will leave Auburn Friday afternoon for Montgomery for their first game of the season with Birmingham Southern that evening.

The return trip will be made that night after the game.

The Blond Blizzard

Here is the kicking, running, passing load of dynamite that Coach Bernie Bierman, of Tulane, is counting on to carry the Green Wave places in the Dixie football scramble. It is none other than the terrible Billy Banker, triple threat of the Green Wave. The Blond Blizzard is looking forward to a big season.

Miller Huggins' Path Never an Easy One

"Mite Manager" Battled For Everything He Got—Leaves Great Baseball Record.

By Ralph McGill.

Miller Huggins, the mite manager, tired and sick, slipped away yesterday just before dusk from a world that had scarcely realized his illness.

The manager of the New York Yankees fell ill but a day or so after the Athletics had thwarted him in his ambition to win four consecutive pennants in the American league.

He won six pennants and three world series for the New York Yankees. Yet he never came to occupy a place in the popular sentiment of the baseball fans of the nation. He proved himself a fine judge of ball players, an astute leader in a baseball game.

Huggins was a great deal like Calvin Coolidge in his attitude toward the public. He rarely talked. He held himself somewhat aloof. So far as the public knew he was reticent and cold. He was quick to befriend, yet an iron disciplinarian when he chose to be. Two years ago his club was dubbed in spring practice "An unled mob." He won with it. George Herman (Babe) Ruth opposed him once, and it was the Mite Manager who won in that clash.

WAS PROTESTED.
Huggins never made a gesture tending to influence the public toward him. When he came to the Yankees in 1917 it was over the popular protest of the multitude. Wilbert Robinson, then at the height of his popularity as the manager of the Brooklyn Robins, was the public choice.

There was opposition from the public and the players. He was a little man and little men always find it difficult to attain dignity in a field of physical endeavor. He survived those early clashes and lived.

The return trip will be made that night after the game.

Florida Relies On Fleet, Heavy Backs To Carry Burden

Backfield Cannot Be Surpassed, Says Danforth—Schedule As Representative and Daring As Any in Conference.

BY ED DANFORTH, Sports Editor, Atlanta Constitution.

Gainesville, Fla., September 25.—For ambitious football teams who dream of winning national recognition, the inspiring spectacle of the schedule of the University of Florida eleven is recommended for perusal.

The fighting 'Gators' in promulgating their schedule issued a challenge to the nation BEFORE the season starts. Florida has a fine football team and the athletic authorities framed a schedule worthy of them. The assignment means something. If the 'Gators' can smash on through, they will have earned a national championship without having to play off with anybody.

Seven conference teams, including Georgia Tech, Georgia and Clemson; Harvard in the east and Oregon in the west comprise the marching orders. No team in the conference will play a more representative schedule this year.

Nearly every football season, one or two teams trot through puny opposition and pull up at the December wire undefeated. Their athletic officials dared nothing in making the schedule; they selected flabby opposition for the sake of having an undefeated team.

Usually such gilded "champions" roar out in December with challenges to one and all. Having amassed a hollow record, they beat upon it as on a drum. There were several phony champions in the field at the close of business last year. But this Florida program is such that, win or lose, glory will be reflected on the team.

To meet the onslaught from three sections, Florida has a most unusual squad and a most puzzling one. Watching Florida take a workout before the opening skirmish with Southern College, and after having looked at most of the leading conference teams, your correspondent was mildly shocked.

There was a bevy of backs that for heft and elusiveness and general perfection in the mechanical details of logging or throwing the leather cannot be surpassed on any conference gridiron.

Yet, in front of them, is a rush line that looks to the eye no bigger than the average city high school. What will happen to that mid-looking rush line when it is exposed to such pounding as can be given by Tech, Harvard and Clemson? Yet, on the other hand, how any conference eleven can hope to bottle up such bruising ball carriers as Dorsett, Cawthorn and Goodbread is hard to see. Those three boys scale 190 pounds each and are faster than any other backs you will face. Who can answer those questions will have solved part of the conference question this fall.

Waters and Bryan, the tackles; Reeves, the guard mate of Steele; Clarke, the center, and Greene, the successor to Stanley at end, are light compared to the other conference forwards; they will have to make up in skill and courage what they lack in height and reach and weight. If they expect to hold their own. When one looks at the Florida rush line and then looks at the schedule one shudders.

Yet last year this same crowd of forwards with the substitution of Stanley at end and Clemens at tackle did not ask odds of any team they met. They lost one game by 1 point and won all the others without even getting their hair mussed.

So it may be that Florida will explode the theory that a great rush line is necessary to a champion football team.

Charles Bachman, Florida's head coach, is a former Notre Dame player and naturally his team employs the Rockne system of offense. The 'Gators' execute their plays smartly and the backs move along with more speed than any other set of backs in the field this year. Many tackles are going to miss these 'Gator' ball carriers because they misjudge their rate of progress from place to place. The Florida halfbacks set an all time record last year for being missed in the clear.

Florida will beat any poor tackling team by just as many touchdowns as the boys care to make. Only a good tackling team can hope to stop them regardless of how ordinary the rush line may seem.

One stroke behind came Johnny Farrell, of Quaker Ridge, former national open champion, and Mike Turnesa, of Elmford, Willie MacFarlane, of Tuckahoe, took fourth place with 292.

Great Backs.

Such backs as Dorsett and Cawthorn and Goodbread, who weigh 190 pounds and run like antelopes, do not need much of a start; and such twisting eels as Crabtree, McEwan, Betters, Sauls and Mills Smith need less protection than most running backs. Such superior runners need get into a broken field just O.K.

WEATHER HALTS CITY TOURNEYS

Druid Hills Meet Postponed—Many Qualifying Delayed.

Rain played havoc with several local golf tournaments Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, but with prospect of clear weather, a large number of golfers are expected to play this afternoon.

Qualifying rounds in the annual city municipal tournament have been extended through Friday afternoon, it was announced Wednesday afternoon by J. C. Jackson, professional in charge of the tournament. Wednesday was scheduled to be the last day for qualifying. Match play will start Saturday and the tournament will be completed next week.

Druid Hills Meet Postponed.
Druid Hills golfers have postponed their annual dinner tournament to a later date, it was announced Wednesday. The tournament was slated to be played Wednesday afternoon with Bowie Martin and Vein Rainwater, captains of the two teams. The losing team will give the dinner, which will follow the tournament.

Although no announcement has been made concerning a date for the tournament, it is likely to be played next week.

Jaycees Play On Scotch Course.
A Scotch golf tournament for members of the Junior Jaycees issued the call for candidates for the Georgia Tech cross-country team yesterday afternoon and sent his harrier-to-be scurrying over the roads around the Flats in their first workout.

With Captain-elect Al Cristfield as the leader of the squad, Coach Barron has Johnny Summerour and Jimmy Furrow as the nucleus of his team. These three are lettermen. The balance of the distance running crew will be made up of candidates from last year's freshman and reserve squads.

The Jackets will face plenty of competition during their short season, meeting two of the leading conference teams and closing with the conference meet at Chapel Hill. Both Clemson and Georgia appear on the Jacket slate, and each is hoped to give the field a hard fight in the chase for the title.

Duke, which is rated on pre-season form sheets as the next champion, does not face the Engineers.

The Tech schedule follows:
November 2, Clemson, at Atlanta.
November 9, University of Georgia, at Athens.

November 16, Auburn, at Auburn.
November 23, southern conference meet, at Chapel Hill.

Fans Cheerful.

Greenville, S. C., September 25.—(AP)—Football fans here are not downhearted over Furman's showing against Erskine last Saturday. They attribute the surprising fact of Erskine scoring on the Hurricane to the underestimated strength of the Seccers. Furman is drilling this week for Chattanooga.

Tom Loughran Relieves He Will Kayo Jack Sharkey Tonight

GOB MUST STEP TO GET VERDICT OVER FAST FOE

Boston Sailor Faces Speedy, Clever Man Who Can Punch.

By Tommy Loughran,
Retired Light Heavyweight Champion of the World and Leading Contender for Heavyweight Championship.

New York, September 25.—The biggest moment of my boxing career is just around the corner.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow night the bell will send me into action against Jack Sharkey at the Yankee stadium here.

The bout is scheduled for 15 rounds. If it goes that distance I feel certain my hand will be lifted in victory. But I have a suspicion I'll stop the Boston heavyweight before the finish.

Sharkey has been the outstanding big man in the game since he knocked out Jim Maloney and got his big shot against Dempsey. For a while in that bout it looked as though the one against Manassa Mauler would finish on the floor. However, he rallied and knocked Sharkey away.

STILL HOT SHOT.

That didn't spoil Jack as a drawing card. He was featured in a number of other big battles, the most important of which—from a financial viewpoint at least—was his victory over Young Stripling at Miami Beach last February.

Since then he has been idle. There is only one way for a boxer to keep his timing and judgment of distance, and that is by fighting. They can't be retained by gymnasium workouts.

While Sharkey has been resting, I have defeated Armand Emanuel, Joe Lohman, Mickey Walker, Ernie Schauf and James J. Braddock. That has kept me in the number one position of the 10 pounds of weight I have added for this bout. I am stronger than ever, and I haven't lost a bit of my ability to step around.

COUNTS ON SPEED.

Everything else aside, I figure that my speed and experience will be the deciding factors. Sharkey hasn't fought half the number of bouts I have, and though he is considered a fast man, he is not as speedy as he appears.

His footwork is not the best. His manner of bobbing his body to and fro has made him look faster than he is. Below the waist he is almost stationary. I have watched him in weight or nine fights and I know. I don't see any reason why he shouldn't offer a better target than even the chunky Mickey Walker, for example.

Sharkey appears to be pinning his hopes on punch. He has repeatedly said he will knock me out. He pointed out that Gene Tunney and Leo Lonski knocked me down with right hands, but he neglects to state what happened after I got up.

To be sure, the right kind of a sock will knock the toughest man who ever lived off his feet. But I have learned a lot of things since Tunney dropped me, and it was sheer carelessness that gave Lonski his opening.

TOM CAUTIOUS.
I won't be careless in these tomorrow night. You can bet on that. Sharkey isn't going to have any great success with his right hand or the left hook to the body that he has been practicing.

So far as hitting ability goes, I believe I can punch with Sharkey any time. I'm not going out there and trade punches with him at the start, because that would be playing the sort of game he wants. For the first six rounds or so I'm going to try to blind and distract him with my left jab. It will be time enough to get working with the right a little later.

The proverbial flat footed policeman will no longer exist, his place being taken by the air-minded policeman. If you are prone to flat feet, the place to shop is here. You can get comfortable shoes, that are made in the newest fashion, for a reasonable amount.

Mack Is Calm, Quiet As Others Fume, Fuss

Athletic Leader Looked To as Advisor, Savior by Young Players—Leads Exemplary Life.

By Raymond A. Hill.
Philadelphia, September 25.—(N.A.A.A.)—He looks at you squarely and steadily from eyes as blue as the sky, his eyes kind but penetrating. As those eyes, set beneath shaggy brows, gaze into yours, he takes your hand with a friendly grasp.

"Glad to know you, 'Slat,'" hardly would be the right thing to say upon being introduced to Connie Mack, who is to lead the Philadelphia Athletics into the world series from Chicago. But "Slat" was to those boys with whom he received his baseball baptism 55 years ago in East Brookfield, Mass.

Cornelius McGillicuddy then was 12, and he played ball whenever he could find time to get away from the shoe factory where he was working. From this kid beginning Mack fought his way steadily through baseball wars and baseball politics until finally he got the Philadelphia franchise in 1901, when "Ban" Johnson decided his new American league would invade the east.

On that day began a new era for ball players. Other managers might storm, fuss and fume at them, but Connie Mack chose to be more of an adviser and friend. Always eager to help the other fellow he never chided a young player in angry tones or misplays, but quietly corrected him when they were alone.

SOUGHT FOR ADVISER.
Other players, men who never wore the uniform of the Athletics, soon came to know Mack and to regard him highly. They often went to him for advice, and still do.

"Every year players from other clubs come to me with their troubles," the 67-year-old manager said. "Most of these fellows have been in the game a good while, and figure they are about as good as the majors. They are mistaken, for a player usually quits big league competition five years too soon."

Young fellows seek Mack's advice daily, sending letters from all parts of the country.

ANSWERS AMBITION.
"Every one is ambitious to succeed," said Mack, "and that's why I try to answer them all. A word of kindness often gives the youngsters the confidence they need to stick in the low class minor leagues and fight to improve themselves."

"The Great" Shires, almost friendless recently after a fist fight with Lena Blackburne and Lou Barbour, found a comforter in Connie Mack. White Sox, had been barred from Shibe park by his club officials. With a policeman at his side "Axi" espied Connie as the Athletics' manager was on his way to the field entrance.

"Can't you fix it for me to stay in the park, Connie?" Shires pleaded. "So far as I am concerned you may stay," Mack replied. "But Blackburne and Barbour want you out of the park, so I can't do anything about it. I'm sorry."

"TWO STRIKES."
Then, placing his hand on Shires' shoulder, Connie said: "They have two strikes on you, my boy. Don't let them get you down. The downcast look left Shires' face. His shoulders squared as he said, 'I'll be in there swinging again, soon.'"

In these championship days Mack is being pestered by men wanting world series tickets, autographs, photographs, old hats and baseball jerseys. So Connie has had his home telephone "plugged," and won't answer the door bell or the telephone until after the series is over.

Mack arises at 7:30 every morning, and has breakfast with his children, Earl and Roy Mack, sons by a former marriage, have homes of their own now, and Mary has entered a convent. Mr. and Mrs. McGillicuddy still have a large family at home, however, with Connie, Jr., and the girls, Rita, Ruth and Betty.

HOUSEHOLD BASEBALL.
The Mack household virtually eats, sleeps and dreams baseball. From the time Katie or Annie, the maids, serve the fruit, cereal and eggs, not to mention coffee, Mack is talking over the prospects of the day with his children.

Mrs. McGillicuddy rarely joins this conversation, for baseball games make her nervous if the A's aren't winning. But Connie, Jr., and the girls all occupy Box 7 behind their dad's dugout every day.

After the children have gone to school Connie reads the baseball news. Seldom, however, is he swayed by the writers. Once, when his club had not been going just right and he had decided to make a shift in the lineup, he saw a change suggested by a sports writer. Mack didn't make the shift because he didn't care to have the fans think others were running his club.

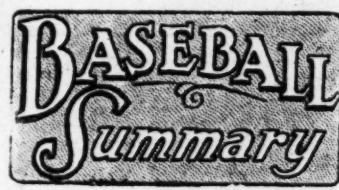

About 10:30 Mack leaves for the ball park, usually accompanied by Mrs. Mack. There was a time when Connie would go right through the press gate, but no more. Now he dodges in through the refreshment stand entrance, next to the A's clubhouse.

SLIPS IN.
Slipping along the catwalk over Colonel Thompson's boiler room Mack reaches the iron staircase leading to his famous tower in Shibe park. There he takes care of his correspondence and receives the reports of his scouts.

Every afternoon at 2:45 o'clock Mack takes a nap upon a red leather lounge in his office suite. For 30 minutes he enjoys complete relaxation. But at 3:15 o'clock, 15 minutes before game time, he awakens and has a sandwich and milk. Then he goes to the clubhouse and prepares his lineup.

Mack never is so busy he won't stop to greet old friends, autograph baseballs, have his photograph taken with the groups of children he invites to the park every day as his guests. These children usually come from orphan asylums, Boy Scout troops or school.

Mack is an outstanding figure on the bench as he waves his scorecard to and fro. The card records every ball pitched. If the umpire errs and the A's suffer, you never hear Mack protest. Only twice in his long career—and he is the only man who has managed a big league club continuously since its organization—has Mack become excited and argued with the heavyweight barrister, withdrew from his semi-final match with Jimmy Maloney because of an injured arm. No substitution has yet been made. Tom Heeney, New Zealand veteran, will meet George Hoffman, New York youngster, in the second ten-round bout with Jack Gagnon, of Boston, and Lou Barba, of New York, clashing in another.

umpires, Ty Cobb was the center of both storms.

THE BLACK BOOK.

Not the slightest detail of the game escapes Mack's keen attention. A mistake by an opponent is noted with as much care as one by an Athletic player. A small black notebook Mack carries in his vest pocket records every player's weakness, and he can tell you why Jones can't hit a high ball inside or why Brown goes better to his right for ground balls than to his left.

After the game Connie will stop to advise a pitcher what to throw to so-and-so when they meet next, or to put his shortstop on the back. He might ask why Simmons tried to bunt instead of hit behind the runner, but such instances are rare. For Mack has confidence in his men.

Connie, Jr., is waiting for his father when the game is over. They motor to the Mack home in Germantown and talk over the high spots of the game. Then dinner.

Give Mack a steak or a cutlet, Irish stew or Hungarian goulash, and he will thoroughly enjoy the evening meal. Any kind of dessert will do, though Connie does prefer rice pudding or ice cream. Tea is the usual beverage.

If it is warm Connie will go out on the porch and read the paper, in his shirt sleeves. Or maybe Mrs. McGillicuddy has arranged a bridge game, which Connie likes. The game ends early, for Mack likes to be in bed by 11 o'clock.

WATCHES SON PLAY.

Perhaps a friend, Eddie Collins or Cy Perkins, will suggest golf for the next morning, and Mack likes golf next to baseball. But if it is fall and Connie, Jr., happens to be playing football with Germantown academy, the Athletics' manager will go to see his son in action.

"I don't particularly care to have him play football, for I think he might make a good baseball player," Mack said. "But if his mother says he can play that's all that is necessary. I'm satisfied."

Mack neither drinks nor uses tobacco. He objects to his players drinking, but he doesn't care whether they smoke or not. "The boys know what's best for them," he says.

On the other hand, most of the boys believe Connie knows what's best for them. Some of them may not be church members but they attend religious services during the road trips of the A's. Seeing Connie attend church every Sunday has gotten the boys into the same habit.

Mack's personality is so impressed upon his players that they'd go the limit to do anything for the "old man." Jimmy Dikes said recently: "I began my major league career in Philadelphia, and I hope I end it here. It would break my heart if Connie ever sent me away."

QUINN IS MAN OF FEW WORDS, MANY CURVES

Mound Sage of Athletics Keeps Age Secret, Says Little.

By Brian Bell,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Philadelphia, September 25. (AP)—John Picus Quinn, the grand old man of the Athletics' pitching staff, whose claim to seniority of the whole team is denied only by Connie Mack and Kid Gleason, is a pitcher of many curves but few words.

Only Jack knows how old he is and he will not tell. The records show that he was pitching and getting paid for his efforts the year Gordon Cochran was born and three years before Jimmy Foxx discovered his toes.

Baseball books have to put down a year of birth to complete the record, so the statistics list Quinn at 44. Opposing batsmen scoff at this. "How," they ask, "could any man grow as wise as Jack Quinn in a mere 44 years?"

BASEBALL MOHICAN.

Jack is one of the last of the baseball Mohicans in that with a few of his old cronies who were working spitballs before the moist delivery was legislated out of the game he is permitted to continue the style. One can count them on the fingers of one hand.

Quinn's fast ball, of 20 years ago, has passed and his change of pace now consists of a slow ball and "medium speed." He keeps the splitter in reserve for the "clutches" and as a constant threat. Players on the other clubs say that he does not throw a splitter every time he puts his glove to his mouth, but they never know when the veiling delivery is coming up.

"Do you expect to start a game in the series?" Quinn was asked. "Don't know."

"If you do, will you get a big thrill out of it?"
"Just a game."

"You have pitched before in the world's series?"
"Yes."

No other questions seemed likely to provoke more extended answers, so Jack was abandoned as a promising subject for an interview.

His last world's series appearance was with the Yankees in 1921. He was defeated then, but he is a better pitcher now than he was then. He won only eight games that season and he has already been credited with 11 victories in 1929. Last year he won 18 and he had 15 the year before.

Laval, Jr., Plays.
Columbia, S. C., September 25.—(AP) Buddy Laval, son of Coach Billy Laval, of the South Carolina Gamecocks, virtually is sure of landing a berth on the Bird team this season. From the first day of practice he has been showing fine form and, in all likelihood, will be stationed on one of the flanks when the Birds meet Erskine here next Saturday.

Captain of Vols To Miss Opener

Knoxville, Tenn., September 25. Captain Howard Johnson, giant tackle, will occupy a choice seat on the sidelines when Bob Neyland's University of Tennessee Vols line-up Saturday afternoon for the opening game of the season with the Praying Colonels of Centre college. Johnson is still suffering from a sprained instep. Neyland sent his gridgers in today after a short session in the mud.

'HUG'S' PATH NEVER EASY

to earn the respect of his men. Baseball is shocked at his totally unexpected death. It was not until yesterday that his illness was given up as fatal. Now that he is gone it is probable that it will be found that he occupied a place in the hearts of his men.

He was a law school degree. Yet he went into baseball and fought his way to the head of the greatest baseball club the world ever knew—the New York Yankees of 1928. Baseball men generally agree that the team of that year was greater than the old Cubs, Orioles, Athletics or Giants.

It is unfortunate that his final year should have been an unsuccessful one. Yet Huggins, when well, probably cared as little for the applause of the world as most men desire it. Tired and ill he was probably content to call it a job well done and set out on the last big adventure.

Friends were with him when he passed on. Men like Huggins make few friends, but those they have are bound with hoops of steel.

PLAYED IN 1904.

Huggins broke into the major leagues with Cincinnati in 1904. He was a brilliant second baseman. He was a great student of the game even then. His play at second base was remarkable.

He was a magnificent lead-off man. He was but a fraction over five feet four inches tall and he had a great batting eye.

He is still a joint holder of the record for the most games played in 158 games with the Reds in 1907. Huggins went with the Cardinals in 1909, and it was there that he established another record.

Huggins was at bat six times and got four walks and two sacrifice hits, leaving him without an official time at bat.

GOOD PLAYER.

The Mite was quite a ball player. He had a bit of managerial experience at St. Louis before going to the Yankees in 1917 to begin a career that for sheer success has never been equaled.

He kept his head up and battled. He earned respect and success and friends. It was not a bad record he left.

Baseball will miss him. His departure makes the 1930 season one of doubt for the Yankees. The club is in for a hard salary fight with some of the players. Huggins would have been able to handle the fight. A new man will have a difficult task. Huggins, master of the greatest baseball show on earth, had it well in hand.

TIDE WINDS UP HARD TRAINING IN SCRIMMAGE

Only Light Work Remains Before Game With Mississippi.

University, Ala., September 25.—The Crimson Tide ended its hard training for the coming season with a furious scrimmage Wednesday. It was the last hard work before the game Saturday with Mississippi college. The Wademen will ease up considerably in order to collect some pep.

Big Tony Holm, leading man in this year's Tide review, was outstanding in his star role Wednesday. The most noticeable thing about the whole practice was Tony's punting. The big blond was booting them consistently for around 45 yards. Bob Miller, the only drop-kicker of note to work on a Crimson squad in years, was punting well for the second stride Tide.

The backfields were all switched Wednesday afternoon. Ben Smith, big fullback brother of last year's Tide captain, was back in play and did right well until he was sent to the showers on account of an eye injury.

Campbell, McLight, Ben Smith and Hugh Bob Miller were working in one backfield, opposing Hicks, Holm, Long and Joe Bowers. There were many substitutions in both rear works combinations. Vines, Brown, Saunders, Clements and Causey all seeing service.

PLAY.

It is first down and ten yards to gain when Williams of Wisconsin circles Pennsylvania's end and is brought down by Shober after a gain of fourteen yards. While in the grasp of Shober, Williams crawls and the foul is called by the umpire.

What is the correct ruling?

ANSWER.

The referee penalizes Wisconsin five yards from the spot where Williams was downed and this cuts his gain down to nine yards. The down remains the same and it is Wisconsin's ball, first down and one yard to gain.

Glenna Collett Leads Americans

Anacostia, Ont., September 25.—(AP) Led by Glenna Collett, of Pebble Beach, Calif., the American attacking force continued its triumphant progress through the Canadian women's golf championship today to place five players in the quarter final round.

Miss Collett scored another sweeping victory in her second round match today, eliminating one of her strongest Canadian rivals, Dora Virtue, of the Whitlock club, Montreal, six up and four to play. Miss Virtue won only two of the 14 holes.

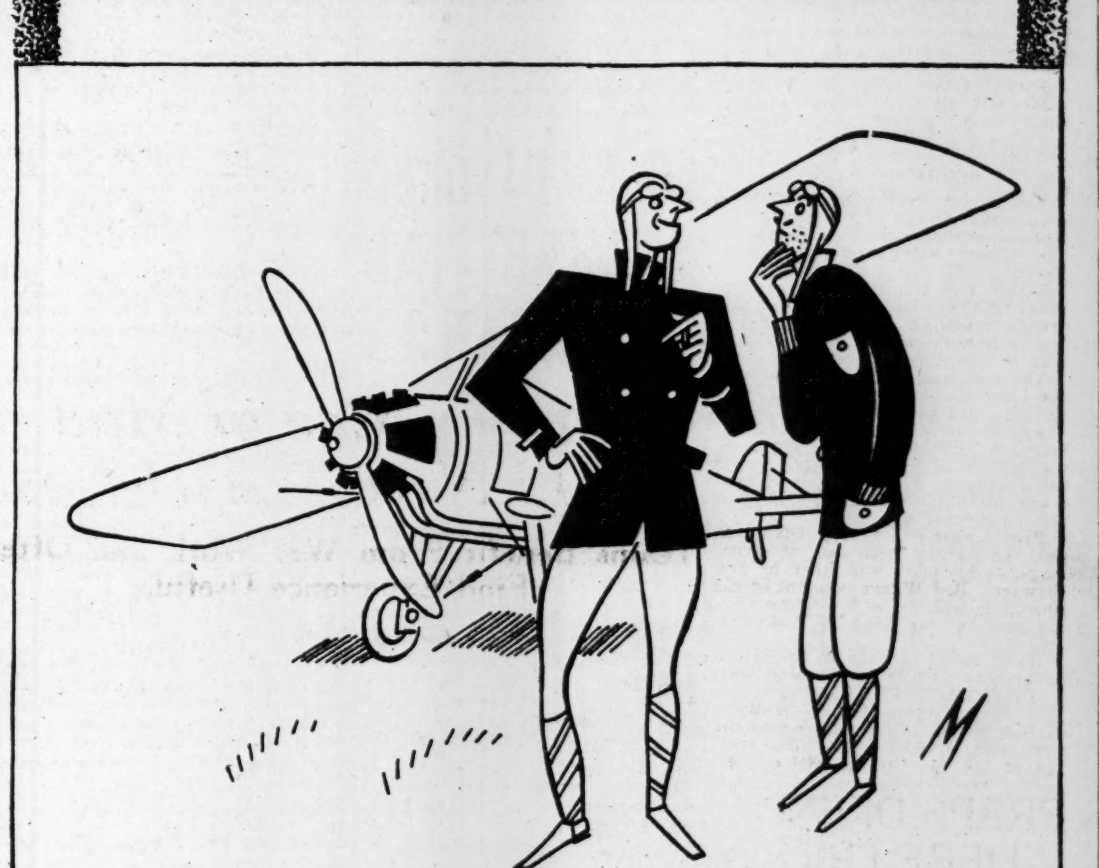

Helen Hicks, youthful Hewlett, N. Y., star, who is favored as Miss Collett's strongest rival, had a much harder match against another American star, Virginia Wilson, of Chicago. Miss Wilson, winner of the title last year, put up a great struggle but lost out on the last hole by a one-hole margin.

WEATHER HURTS.

Unfavorable weather conditions during the past three days retarded prep football practice considerably but Marist and Russell High have carried on their preparation indoors. Long signal drills were held Wednesday afternoon at each practice session and

A GOOD BLADE NEEDS NO APOLOGY

Pilot . . . "Been up for endurance? Looks like you hadn't shaved lately!"
Passenger "I shaved this morning. Beard's tough."
Pilot . . . "So's mine, but I use a good blade. Switch to Gem, and you'll have a quick, clean take-off every morning!"

Gem Blades bring applause instead of apologies

Stop blaming a tough beard for the harm bad blades are doing. No matter how tough your beard, it becomes a pacifist when Gem Blades get to work. So keen is Gem's edge that at a touch, it smoothly severs the whiskers. No tug, no pull, no resistance—a clean, cool shave quickly. Genuine Gem Blades give you more comfortable shaves and more of them. Get a package at any dealer's. If after one week you aren't ready to sign a new declaration of shaving independence, we'll refund your money.

JOHNSTON & MURPHY Shoe for Men

It rained on a great many new Fall Johnston & Murphy Shoes this week . . . without affecting the feet therein or the shoes. The sales have been excellent, and the sailing, along wet streets, fine! Aside from being the governing style thought in men's footwear, Johnston & Murphy Shoes delight in facing a "muddy track"—there the greatness of their construction stands out.

AERIAL ATTACK WEAK, HOWEVER, ON FIRST TRIAL

Dunn, Miller and Booth Slash Second Team for Many Long Runs.

New Haven, Conn., September 25.—The new system of formations which Head Coach Stevens is introducing to his Yale football squad for the game with Georgia enabled the first team to completely baffle the second team in a 50-minute scrimmage held this afternoon on the Anthony Thompson practice field. The first team trampled the scrubs by the score of 26 to 0, owing to the brilliant broken field running of Albie Booth, who scored two touchdowns, one after a 70-yard run through the entire Gray team.

Featured by excellent interference and good work on the part of the line, the varsity team made the best appearance it has shown since fall practice began. The forward passing, however, was very poor, no doubt due to the fact that today marked the first time that it has been used in scrimmage this fall.

CLEVER WITH BALL.

The Blue team opened up its attack with long gains made by K. Dunn, H. C. Miller and Booth. The handling of the ball was most clever, as the Gray repeatedly were unable to tell who had the leather until the carrier had gotten away for a good gain.

Coach Stevens really demonstrated his many possibilities.

The other two touchdowns for the first team, besides those scored by Booth, were made by Miller and Johnny Walker. Miller scored on an eight-yard plunge through center, while Walker intercepted a scrub pass and dashed 20 yards for another touchdown.

SCORE ON PASS.

The second team made its only score near the end of the scrimmage, when a forward pass from Savage to Bud Jones was successfully completed.

Today was the last day that the squad will have both morning and afternoon practices, as the opening of the university makes necessary the halt of the morning workout.

The scrimmage this afternoon was the longest and most strenuous that the team has had this fall.

Art Palmer, regular center, received a slight injury to a finger on his left hand. He withdrew from the scrimmage, being replaced by Sam Gwin, although it was reported that the injury was not serious.

Fred Loser was kept at left guard only during the first half of scrimmage, as his place was taken by Jim Stewart. Bud Wilson was out of the lineup because of a toe blister, but his position was filled by Ned Austin.

Booth called the signals today, an assignment usually given to Wilson.

both teams appear to be in excellent shape for the games.

Coach Joe Bean is serving his twenty-sixth season at Marist and is one of the most familiar figures in local prep circles. He is a keen student of the famous Knute Rockne system, employed at Notre Dame and his teams always play colorful football.

His teams are well coached and with comparatively green and inexperienced material this year, only a few plays are being used.

MARIST LINEUP.

The Marist lineup will probably be Stevens and Richy, center; Dettie and Ogde, tackles; Pringle and Fuller, guards; Murray, center; Van Horn, quarterback; Humphrey and Reine, halfbacks, and May, fullback.

Russell High lineup will be Wood and Gibson, ends; Calahan and Collins, tackles; Bell and Landers, guards; Fisher, center; Bond, quarterback; Gordon and Clay, halfbacks, and Dunn, fullback.

Russell's line will average 160 pounds with the backfield much lighter.

Holm's line will weigh 150 and the backfield will scale about 145 as an average.

Tickets for the Tech High-G. M. A. game were placed on sale Wednesday morning.

arms in a sling. His collar bone was fractured Saturday.

The first scrimmage was a rat killing affair in which the most promising fresh were very much trampled upon by the varsity backfield men.

Molton Smith, great tackle, who was alternated with either Sington or Clements, is having a bad time with a kidney injury he received last week when he tackled McRitt.

Hugh Miller was showing up well in open field running. He returned one of Holm's long runs 20 yards with tackles swarming all over him, for which he won the personal commendation of Coach Wade, and that means something.

Jimmy Moore and Elmore were the first string ends, each alternating with Kendall and Beale. Dobbs and Weaver were opposing the Holm backfield outfit, which commonly accepted as the first string. However, there is no well defined "A" team as yet.

The old combination of Hicks, Holm, Campbell and McRitt was formed again for the final snail drill of the evening. Right now they are the starting backs.

Two Britishers Tie In French Open

Paris, September 25.—(AP)—Two British stars, Archie Compston and Aubrey Boomer, tied for the French open golf championship on the Saint Cloud course today. Both had 72-hole scores of 283.

The question of a playoff has not been decided as both players are engaged in the Anglo-French team matches beginning tomorrow at Biarritz.

Heavyweight Proof.

The heavyweight situation in itself is only as important as the heavyweight situation in a circus tent. When Dempsey was champion it meant $10,000,000 in gate receipts and something like seven years of turmoil and nationwide excitement. Tunney failed to stick around long enough to prove the case either way and when he left the show flat he left it at a spot where someone had to prove that another champion had arrived.

No one can come close to proving this point up-to-date. It may be that either Sharkey or Loughran will offer some proof along this line, but it will have to be more definite proof than either has offered for some time.

Loughran has proved himself to be one of the best boxers in the trade, but his next move will be to show that added weight has put more power into his attack.

Sharkey will have to return to his Willms-Maloney form to stand around in front. One of the two may get somewhere unless both take it for granted that the winner, however bad the battle, deserves to be lifted to the top. If they both understand that a bad fight will leave a large dent in both reputations, they may be action enough to put the heavyweight situation back where it ought to be in sport and in life.

Loughran and Sharkey have quite enough to put on a show of it if they will do their stuff and shoot the works. It will be the old mental attitude that counts, as it usually does in almost any competition that happens along.

Championship Ages.

Bill Tilden, the national tennis champion of the United States, is 36. Jimmy Johnston, the amateur golf champion, is 34. Babe Ruth, the home run king, is 33. Bobby Jones, the United States open golf champion, is 27, but at the age of 27 he has had 14 years of tournament competition.

There is no heavyweight or light-heavyweight champion and the N. B. A. seems to be quite certain there is no middleweight champion. It has been a long time since so many champions averaged around 35 years. With the rush of the kids and the surge of youth in recent seasons, there was a general belief that championships had to be the exclusive property of those between 21 and 30.

How Many Unbeaten?

The list of unbeaten teams among those who play championship schedules should be as thin this season as it was last fall, when most of them at one time or another were bumped off.

For example, Army and Notre Dame have fine prospects, but figure the odds they must face, even before they meet late in November.

Yale and Harvard have faint prospects of slipping through without a jolt. Princeton has a better chance since Brown, Navy and Yale are her hardest games, but the Navy will be something to hurdle. It took Bill Ingram a few weeks to overcome bad breaks and get started last fall, but once he opened up no other team finished with better stuff.

Stanford can make it if Stanford can only cut its way through the University of Southern California, where Howard Jones is all set with a jolt. ## BULLDOGS SHOW BETTER FORM IN SCRIMMAGE

Captain Boland Leads Varsity Against Rats in Short Session.

Athens, Ga., September 25.—A hard rain here this afternoon forced the Georgia Bulldogs back to the dressing rooms after an hour of practice. Showers, which have been falling here almost continuously since Sunday, have flooded the field and made it a sea of mud and water.

Coach Harry Mehre had refused to let the weather interfere with his work until today, when he stopped a scrimmage between the freshmen and the varsity teams and ordered the players to shelter. The Georgia coaches have left no stone unturned in their efforts to be ready for the opening game.

The practice today was short but encouraging to those who witnessed the scrimmage yesterday. Captain Joe Boland, who has been working in the rain and in the sunshine, and although they prefer a dry day, they are not unprepared if the field is muddy.

FLORIDA'S LINE Will Improve Game

Penalty for Individual Mistake Made Uniform. Will Encourage Boldness of Play.

By Ralph McGill.

Laymen in the football attendance classes are apt to be confused by the various opinions expressed by the leading coaches in regard to the football rule changes.

Of course, when one speaks of the football rule changes he means only the changes relative to the fumbled football, especially that section which says that the ball may not be picked up by opponents and advanced but is dead on the spot.

There has been a great deal of arguing pro and con about the football fumble rule. There are some of the better-known coaches who sincerely believe the game lost some of its virility by the new ruling. Others argue that the ruling is satisfactory and will improve the game from both the players' and the spectators' viewpoint.

Others argue that the ruling is satisfactory and will improve the game from both the players' and the spectators' viewpoint.

There is this to be said—the new rule, which minimizes the penalty for a fumble, does argue for the better-known coaches who sincerely believe the game lost some of its virility by the new ruling. Others argue that the ruling is satisfactory and will improve the game from both the players' and the spectators' viewpoint.

Associated Press Market Editor.

Chicago, September 25.—(AP)—

Corn led the grain markets upward today, with a good deal of buying. An authoritative summary of crop conditions prevailing throughout the corn belt indicated that the 1929 crop was a whole lot better than the smallest since 1924, and with only two new low-price records for the season, but afterward helped by bulges in quotations on corn.

The corn market closed strong, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 a bushel higher than yesterday's. When closed, firm, 3 1/2 to 7 1/2 a bushel, 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 advanced, and provisions ranging from 25c decline to a gain of a shade.

On the other hand, statements were current that the shrinkage of the 1929 estimated yield of corn is largely due to drought which prevailed during July and August resulting in smaller sized ears and a good deal of loss in the milk stage, and that frosts would be harmful.

New York, September 25.—(AP)—The bond market continued heavy today. Encouraging factors were absent, with time money rates and hard to get at those rates. Selling in all groups was light and with the exception of two three convertible bonds the list suffered from lack of interest.

Share option bonds had an erratic day, as was to be expected from the course of stocks. A mid-afternoon decline sharply from the day's high, was followed by a recovery which virtually erased the losses and closed the quotations showed little variation from the Tuesday finals.

American Telephone 4-1-2s again led the volume, selling as high as 21 1/2 and then reacting to 20 1/2 on the broad decline. An advance of 6 points from that low resulted in a net gain for the session of 3 1/2. International Telephone 4-1-2s did not fare so well, selling down to 18 1/2 and closing at 19 1/2 for a loss of 1 point. Allegheny Corporation 5s and Reading Coal & Iron 6s were also weak, while American Q. Chemical 5-1-2s got down to 11 1/2, the lowest price in weeks.

Rails and utilities bore the brunt of the selling in the more seasoned section of the list.

American Telephone debenture 5s equalled their year's low of 10 1/4, while Federal Light & Traction 5s touched a new minimum.

Cuba Cane Sugar obligations all touched new lows. Oil company bonds firmed slightly.

United States Air Line adjustment 5s moved up more than a point on the announcement that more than 80 per cent of the bonds had been deposited under the recapitalization plan.

Industrials were moderately steady, but trading was light.

United States cement obligation 4-1-2s closed a small fraction above the year's low. Foreign bonds were mostly inactive, but changes ruled roughly irregular.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN No. 34

Sheets, the panther, had interrupted the Dance of Death. But Tarzan was still bound to the stake, and the huge beast seemed not to understand its master's helplessness. Now the warriors, realizing that it was a flesh and blood panther, took heart a trifle. Rokoff urged them to hurl their spears. Then suddenly their chief also saw that which Tarzan the ape-man was fixedly watching.

With a yell of terror the chief turned and fled toward the village gate. And as his people looked to see the cause of his fright, they, too, took to their heels. For there—lumbering down upon them, their huge forms exaggerated by the play of moonlight and camp fire—came the hideous apes of Akut. Now the ape-man's savage cry rang out above the shrieks of the fleeing blacks.
